Confidence in Leadership
Voted by Bloc Populaire,
Quebec Chief Appointed

MONTREAL, Feb. 5.—(CP)—A vote of complete confidence in the national leadership of Maxime Raymond was unanimously adopted by 550 delegates at the first national convention of the Bloc Populaire here last night and the Bloc's youthful general secretary, Montreal-born Andre Laurendeau, was appointed Quebec provincial leader for forthcoming general provincial elections.

Coldwell Says
C.C.F. to End
Poverty, Want

TORONTO, Feb. 5.—(CP)—M. J. Coldwell, C.C.F. leader, said in an address last night the C.C.F. believes its program will enable more people to own more property and, rather than restricting individual initiative, will free them "from the regimentation of poverty or want."

In an address prepared for delivery to the Workers' Educational Association of Canada, Mr. Coldwell said farmers and labor are being "exploited by powerful organizations and speculative interests."

ATTACKS PACKERS

Through the consolidation of packing interests, the farmer is at the mercy of the dominant packing company, Canada Packers Ltd., Mr. Coldwell said. This company had 200,000 shares of stock with a stated value of $1,438,284 or $7.19 a share. On this share capital, it paid dividends of $3 a share annually—a rate of more than 41 per cent—from 1935 to 1939, 44 during 1939 and 1940 and $3.50 in 1941.

"By the end of 1940, Canada Packers had a total surplus account of $8,106,942 on a total capital stock of $1,438,284," said Mr. Coldwell.

"I am doing what I think should be done. To relate the profits to the capital stock and to the total assets of the company which have been built up out of the sweat and blood of the farmer."

Surprise Blow Bags
Eighty Jap Planes

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, Southwest Pacific, Feb. 5.—(AP)—Eighty Japanese planes were destroyed by Allied airmen in a heavy raid on the Japanese base at Wewak, New Guinea, headquarters announced today.

Apparently the Japanese air force was caught by surprise. Seventy-two enemy planes were caught grounded and destroyed. Eight were shot down.

Wewak is the major air supply base for the entire Japanese defenses in the northeastern New Guinea sector. It was last reported hit Jan. 23 when Allied airmen knocked down and destroyed from 33 to 45 Japanese planes.

A total of 200 tons of bombs was poured into the Wewak defenses—the heaviest raid on that reinforced base since the Pacific war began.

Set Session Date

FREDERICTON, Feb. 5.—(CP)—The fifth session of New Brunswick's 39th legislature will open on Feb. 22, Premier J. B. McNair announced yesterday following a caucus of government members.

Loyal Edmonton Regiment Take
Five Prisoners in Darkened Room

By DOUGLAS AMARON
WITH THE CANADIAN FORCES IN ITALY, Feb. 5.—(CP)—Five of the few prisoners who surrendered in Ortona were rounded up by Ptes. C. G. Rattray, Lavoy, Alta., T. M. Starke, Fairview, Alta., and James Galloway, Cumberland, Ont.

Rattray is one of The Loyal Edmonton Regiment's best known riflemen. When his company had a period in reserve during the Ortona battle, he joined the Seaforth Highlanders so he could keep on fighting.

On one occasion, a section under Sgt. Bill Purvis, Grande Prairie, Alta., was attacked point blank by Mr. Laurendeau's appointment by Mr. Raymond was made after a resolution asked the federal leader of the Bloc to designate a leader in the provincial field.

In accepting the post Mr. Laurendeau said that he would soon lead the Bloc's forces against the present Liberal government in the province.

SESSIONS CLOSED

Mr. Raymond's speech to the delegates was summarized by organizers and handed out to news-men. Resolutions adopted by the convention were also handed to the press without any indication as to whether the resolutions had been adopted unanimously or carried on division.

A resolution adopted called for Canada's "absolute independence" at the conclusion of hostilities. The resolution also called for abolition of the right of appeal to the Privy Council; suppression in all official texts of the words "British subject" and its replacement by the words "Canadian citizen" when Canadian nationality is involved; and adoption of a Canadian flag.

A second resolution called for "really equal" treatment for Canada's two main racial groups, this Continued on Page 2, Col. 4

Jet Plane Not
Soon to Oust
Present Craft

LONDON, Feb. 5.—(CP)—British aeronautical experts have put a damper on the enthusiastic wishful thinking that the jet-propelled airplane will take the place of all propeller-equipped machines in the near future.

The use of the new machine in the war against Germany has been pretty well ruled out. The war is expected to be finished by the time sufficient jet-propelled planes are in production.

But the statement of an American officer that the new plane will be a "priceless asset for the American Navy's carrier-based operations against Japan" is echoed here in somewhat more cautious estimates that it will be a factor in the Far Eastern war.

Commercially, the jet-propelled plane is said here to be between five and 10 years from existence.

Post-War Plans,
Social Legislation
Feature Session

WINNIPEG, Feb. 5.—(CP)—Post-war planning and social service legislation are expected to be dominant features of the 1944 session of the Manitoba legislature, opening next Tuesday.

The government is expected to place considerable stress on broadening the field of social service in the field of health and welfare. Labor legislation also will be considered.

A short session is forecast, lasting not more than five or six weeks.

A German anti-tank gun. Rattray, who was in this section, and Purvis were bowled over by the blast. Major Jim Stone, Peace River, Alta., a company commander, heaved a grenade at the gun but it struck the shield, bounced back and knocked Purvis over on his heels again. The section eventually alligned the gun.

STONE IS "MAD MAJOR"

Another Ortona story involving Stone dealt with the time three Edmontoners were wounded in a house. Under cover of smoke and without weapons, the company commander and some stretcher bearers went out to get them.

The Germans didn't fire but a Canadian tank, whose crew did not know the house had been captured, opened up. It stopped only after an Edmonton soldier smashed his own

Church Seeks Clemency For
John Hipfner

More city organizations are rallying in support of the request for clemency for John Hipfner, Edmonton worker who is facing extradition on a charge of breaking jail in Wisconsin.

Officers of McDonald Baptist Church are submitting a resolution Sunday morning to the congregation, requesting their support by a standing vote. Their resolution urges that representation be made to the proper authorities for a stay of proceedings against Hipfner and also to request that favorable consideration be given to pardoning him.

The Edmonton Branch of the Canadian Legion, B.E.S.L., the Local Council of Women, and the Federation of Community Leagues are some of the organizations who are canvassing the city seeking signatures on petitions for clemency.

Petitions are coming to Edmonton residents from many other sources as well and householders in certain districts have been asked to sign them by their milkmen and icemen. The petitions are being circulated in many of the large industrial and war plants in the city and are being signed freely.

Hipfner was released from custody on Sunday on $1,000 bail will appear again Tuesday for hearing of the case.

50 Italo Prisoners
Executed by Nazis

BARCELONA, Feb. 5.—(AP)—Fifty Italian prisoners, most of whom were members of the Italian army loyal to Marshal Pietro Badoglio, have been executed by the Germans in Milan as a "reprisal" for the assassination of the Milan chief of police, diplomatic quarters reported today.

PUTTEE PATTERN

RSM. R. O. Bowen of Edmonton decided the Germans aren't dumb after all. He placed a booby trap in the mouth of a tunnel they were using under Ortona. When he returned next day he found that the enemy, far from being fooled, had added a booby trap of their own.

LONDON, Feb. 5.—Premier Josef Stalin announced that the Red Army has captured Rovno and Luck, key railroad towns in pre-war Poland, the evacuation of which the Nazis reported two days ago.

Also reported by Stalin in an order of the day was the capture of Zdobunov, rail junction seven miles south of Rovno.

MOSCOW, Feb. 5.—(AP)—Major decisions were being won all along the Russian front today with the onslaught against Hitler's battered armies continuing full swing from the Baltic to the middle Ukraine.

Gen. Leonid A. Govorov's Leningrad army had reached the mouth of the Narova river, nine miles inside the border of Estonia on the coast of the Gulf of Finland, and had advanced to Lake Peipus, 36 miles to the south, thereby sealing the land gap which forms the gateway to the Baltic.

The Narova river running across this bottleneck parallel to the border offered the Germans a natural defence line, however, and there was no information yet as to whether the railway and highway running parallel to the Gulf of Narva from Reval (Tallinn) to Riga had been cut.

Vichy Says French
Battleship Is Hit

LONDON, Feb. 5.—(CP)—The German-controlled Vichy radio said today that the French battleship Dunkerque was hit during the Allied bombing of Toulon yesterday and is still burning. The Dunkerque, a 26,500-ton battleship launched in 1935, was scuttled by the French navy when the Germans occupied Toulon in November, 1942, and was reported later to have been dismantled by the Germans.

Two Russian Subs
Sighted in Baltic

STOCKHOLM, Feb. 5.—(AP)—Two Russian submarines have been sighted in the Baltic sea southeast of Norrkoping, Sweden, where Russian submarines were active in 1942, the Sydsvenska Dagbladet of Malmoe said yesterday. This area is off the Swedish east coast. Since the Russian drive along the Finnish Gulf began, the Swedish press has been speculating on the chances of the Red Fleet breaking into the Baltic to harass Axis shipping.

Statement Issued
Canadian Corps
In Italy Lauded
By Commander

By DOUGLAS AMARON
WITH CANADIANS IN ITALY, Feb. 5.—(CP)—The Canadian Corps in Italy intends to prove itself "a worthy inheritor of the great traditions" of the Canadian Corps of the First Great War, Lt.-Gen. H. D. G. Crerar, corps commander, said in a statement.

"There are strong reasons for believing these intentions will be fulfilled," he said in the statement issued Wednesday, his first since the corps went into the line with the British 8th Army. The corps holds the right, or Adriatic, flank of the 8th Army.

Gen. Crerar cited the qualities of officers and men who successfully withstood years of training and preparation for battle and the reputation of Canadian soldiers who fought at Dieppe and in Sicily and Italy.

He continued: "A very distinguished British general officer under whom Canadian formations have recently been in action said to me the other day that what so impressed him was that no matter how tough the battle conditions, wherever he went amongst the Canadians he saw smart soldiers who could smile and salute as well as fight."

"The Canadian Corps will carry on in that manner undeterred by difficulties, undisturbed by its successes, until at long last the task we have voluntarily undertaken has been accomplished."

The statement extended "comradely greetings" from the corps to Canadian troops in Britain and Canada and said: "We believe their opportunity is close at hand and we know that the strenuous, sound training they have received will serve them well in battle."

He expressed hope the report of the war expenditures committee on last year's work would be available for discussion at this session.

Paris Among Targets Hit
During Raid

By AUSTIN BEALMEAR
LONDON, Feb. 5.—(AP)—Droves of American heavy bombers thundered out over central France today and the Vichy radio said the southwestern district of Paris was one of the targets.

R. A. F. fighter-bombers and U.S. two-engined bombers also hit secret German defence emplacements along the invasion coast of France.

The Allied announcement of the day's operations, the eighth in nine days for American four-engined aircraft, said only that they attacked German airfields in Central Europe. The first bomber crews to return said they encountered few enemy fighters and moderate gun-fire.

The Americans last hit Paris Dec. 31 when they bombed ball-bearing plants in the industrial outskirts.

Paris last was touched by bombs Jan. 14 when Typhoons swept the area.

6 AIRFIELDS BOMBED

A headquarters announcement later said that six French airfields had been attacked, and listed them as Villacoublay, Tours, Saint Avord, Chateaudun, Orleans-Bricy and Chateauroux la Martinierie.

Today's attack followed a night in which R. A. F. Mosquito bombers ranged over western Germany to dump 500-pound bombs on unannounced objectives.

The air ministry said no planes were missing from last night's blow.

Churchill Receives
$89,000 Bequest

LONDON, Feb. 5.—(CP)—Sir Henry Strakosch, banker and economist who died last October, left Prime Minister Churchill £20,000 ($89,000) from an estate of £2,454,500, one of the largest disclosed by death records recently in Britain.

The bequest to the prime minister was described in the will as a "token of friendship and gratitude for his and his wife's great kindness and hospitality." Brendan Bracken, minister on information, was bequeathed £2,500.

Another bequest was £10,000 to Field Marshal Smuts, prime minister of South Africa and a close friend of Sir Henry.

end of the atoll.

Latest invasion moves were intended to give complete control of the atoll's south end. While fighting continued on Kwajalein Island, troops landed to the north of it on Egeye Island, where there are two seaplane bases, ramps, hangars, shops, a pier and a radio station. Already half of that important island has been won.

RESISTANCE CRUSHED
Between Ebeye and Kwajalein, two small, unarmed islands were occupied and the moderate enemy resistance on them was ended.

To the north of Ebeye, bombs and shells began falling on Gugugwe and Loi Islands, drawing enemy fire. Gugugwe, which guards one of the main channels into spacious Kwajalein lagoon
now used by the American navy, is fortified with pillboxes, artillery and machine-gun emplacetem.

"our casualties continue to be moderate."

E.D., special Canadian commissioner for Northwest defence projects, have returned from Nelson, guished Service Cross.

Presentation was made to Mrs.
Bertha Peters, on behalf of her son,
Capt. F. T. Peters, V.C., D.S.O., D.S.C., for gallantry by the latter during the Allied invasion of North

Presentation of the U.S. award, was particularly moving as it was made at the bedside of Mrs. Pe-

Allies Mopping Up Positions in Burma

NEW DELHI, Feb. 5.—(CP)—Allied troops, mopping up enemy positions in the upper Chindwin valley of Northern Burma, occupied a village 20 miles southeast of Tanu without opposition Thursday, an Allied communique said today.

B.A.F. and U.S. bombers carried out widespread raids over Northern and Central Burma Thursday and yesterday, ranging from the Hu kang valley in the north down through the Chindwin hills and the Mayu peninsula to the vicinity of Mandalay.

"Stick 'Em Up, Heinies!"

Germans who were hanging around Nettuno, south of Rome, Allied assault troops ward the interior. Here are two of the relatively few prisoners who were taken near the coast. The penetration is now encountering fierce enemy counter-attacks which the British and Americans are steadily smashing back.

Find Stored Meat Is Unfit For Use

QUEBEC, Feb. 5.—(CP)—More than 500,000 pounds of meat stored in a federal government downtown warehouse by a meat firm and approximately 20 Quebec butchers, yesterday were declared unfit for consumption by federal, provincial and municipal inspectors.

No seizure was made but inspectors ordered that "not a single piece" of the meat be sold.

Asked whether all of the meat will be destroyed, Dr. Berchmans Paquet, director of the city health department, said he had no statement to make, but it was reported unofficially that most of the 500-000 pounds in storage will have to be destroyed.

The investigation started three weeks ago when a Quebec butcher entered a complaint with the city health department after having ordered two calves from a large meat company here. As the calves showed signs of decay, municipal inspector Joseph Lachance called the company which had delivered the meat and was informed that the two calves had come directly from the federal warehouse. An inspection of all the meat in the warehouse followed.

Plan "Best Use" Of Freight Cars

MONTREAL, Feb. 5.—(CP)—The national advisory committee on car-loadings met here yesterday under the chairmanship of transport controller T. C. Lockwood and drafted plans for "making the best possible use of all railway equipment."

A report presented at the meeting indicated that Canadian railways loaded about 100,000,000 tons of revenue freight in 1942, 2,452-000 cars, for a heavier loading per car than in 1942, when 91-664,000 tons were loaded in 3,368,000 cars. It was estimated the heavier loadings meant a saving of 175,000 cars throughout the year.

"The committee," said an announcement, "are studying ways and means of further utilization of cars which will necessitate still heavier loadings and quicker turn arounds. . . . It will be necessary and essential that the best possible use is made of all the equipment now in use in Canada, particularly as the movement of a maximum quantity of grain over a short period of time will require a very large number of cars."

Japanese-American Asks U.S. Respect

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 5.—(AP)—
Sgt. Ben Kuroki, Japanese-American war hero, asked the United States yesterday to respect loyal Americans of Japanese ancestry and said despite his uniform and medals, "I don't know for sure if it's safe to walk the streets of my own country."

The 25-year-old farm boy from Hershey, Neb., a gunner on 30 bombing missions over Europe and Africa, holds the Distinguished Flying Cross for participation in the Ploesti air field raid and the air medal. He was scheduled to return home after 25 missions but volunteered for an extra five "because my brother wasn't overseas yet and I wanted my family in the show."

He told of "begging with tears in my eyes" for permission to stay with the outfit to which he was first assigned, even though at first "only one boy was kind to me;" of having pilots refuse to take him in their crews—"I understood how they felt;" and of ultimately getting with "a great bunch."

"Fifteen months in combat teaches you what brotherhood, tolerance and equality really are," he said.

"It is going to make the difference of life and death for future generations whether next November the American people elect as president the statesman who feels in his very bones the necessity for international community and cooperation or a statesman whose belief in international solidarity is the grudging concession to the pressure of events," the editorial said.

British Smash Counter-Blows By Nazi Forces

reported a day earlier, all of which were repulsed with heavy losses to the enemy, Gen. Sir Henry M.
Wilson's communique revealed.

The tempo of the fighting south of Rome was reported mounting steadily, it still was in the preliminary stages, however, on the basis of reports that the Nazis were sparing for an opening to mount a full-scale assault against the Allies.

British United Press correspondent James Roper reported from a Fifth Army command post outside Cassino that German reinforcements were believed moving into Cassino today in apparent preparation for vicious house-to-house battles.

American assault forces who had been in and out of Cassino repeatedly as the see-saw battle swayed violently through the outskirts clung stubbornly to positions on the northern rim of the shattered town.

DECISIVE BATTLE NEAR Roper said new German moves were getting under way, indicating that a decisive struggle was shaping up.

To the northeast, the Germans appeared to be punching at the Allied lines all along the invasion front in hope of finding a weak spot.

The heaviest blows were struck north of Carroccio, on the Rome-Anzio road some five miles south of Campoleone, to the outskirts of which the Allies had pushed earlier.

British soldiers told Reynolds
Packard, British United Press war correspondent at the front, that "hundreds" of Germans probably were killed in bloody hand-to-hand combat that led to the repulse of a single German tank-led counter-attack Thursday evening.

Additional hundreds of the enemy were captured, boosting the official bag of prisoners seized in the two weeks since the Allies stormed ashore to 1,500 and the number taken since the start of the Italian campaign to more than 10-000.

DIRECTION NOT GIVEN
The direction of the latest German counter-attacks was not specified, but the enemy was believed to have driven westward from the Cassino-Campoleone railroad toward British vanguards above Carroccio.

On the southern front 50 miles below the beachhead, American troops were locked in a fierce battle for Cassino, main hinge of the enemy defences, and an official commentator admitted the odds were "on the defenders."

The Germans had converted every floor of every house into a pillbox and each had to be attacked individually, often under cross fire from neighboring dwellings. The Germans apparently were under orders to fight to the last man.

Other Fifth Army forces, out-flanking Cassino from the north, repulsed a counter-attack against
Mt. Manna and advanced southward in an attempt to cut off the garrison from the rear.

Prisoners also were taken on the southern front, the daily Allied headquarters communique reported.

On the Adriatic front, Eighth Army patrols were reported actively engaging the enemy at several points.

ternational leadership today and declared that Governor Thomas

ber the American people elect as

Senate Adjourns Until March 7th As Debate Ends

By JACK WILLIAMS
OTTAWA, Feb. 5.—(CP)—Debate on the Throne Speech was concluded in the Senate late yesterday and the upper house adjourned without a recorded vote on the address in reply.

Adjournment then was taken to March 7, with the provision that senators may be summoned earlier if important measures are received from the Commons.

WANTS TAX EASED

In yesterday's debate the Senate heard recommendations from Senator W. Rupert Davies (L.—Ont.) for the easing or early removal of excess profits taxes to aid small business.

Senator Norman Lambert (L.—Ont.), chairman of the senate reconstruction committee at the last session, urged prompt action in preparing a basis for conversion from war to peace economy.

Senator Davies said he was unable to understand the necessity of the government's proposal to establish an industrial bank to aid industry in converting to peacetime conditions. He said he was suspicious of government banks and loan companies where political influence might be exerted and felt the chartered banks were well able to take care of business.

"If small businesses are to survive, there has got to be a very definite reduction of the excess profits tax—if it is not taken off altogether," Senator Davies said.

MUST END AFTER WAR

The excess profits tax should certainly be removed immediately after the war and necessary money levied through corporation taxes which would provide a fair basis.

Senator Lambert said the proposed new reconstruction department should be headed by a man with practical experience, a "ways-and-means" type of man.

Difficulties in the work of reconstruction would in many respects be similar to those of the war period and methods of control, rationing and priorities would have to be continued for some time.

Countess Sharp, Revealing In "Off Record" Views On Premiers of Britain

By ROSS MUNRO

LONDON, Feb. 5.—(CP)—The Countess of Oxford and Asquith, 69-year-old widow of Herbert Henry Asquith, Britain's prime minister in the early days of the first Great War, has written an unusual little book with sharp, revealing, and sometimes acid comments on prime ministers she had known since Gladstone.

In "Off the Record," she touches, too, on lives of other public men, praises without stint, criticizes sternly, and rambles through subjects ranging from marriage to war.

Margot Asquith is one of England's grand old ladies whose world for decades was whirling "London society"—when had passed with the war—where she mingled with the great of England.

VIEWS ON CHURCHILL

Of Prime Minister Churchill she writes:

"No man living can do all the work which Winston has taken upon his shoulders. . . I have known him since the days when he thought the poet Blake had been an admiral, and had never heard of Robert Louis Stevenson. It seems incredible that a man of such uncertain education should have risen to such heights. . . He is apt to emphasize his own conceptions and being far cleverer than the men by whom he is surrounded, he has got out of the habit of listening. . ."

Her choice as Churchill's successor is Sir Stafford Cripps, minister of aircraft production. "I see no unity of all these conflicting parties, Labor has been the most conspicuous. Sir Stafford Cripps is by far the most remarkable member of the Labor party, highly educated and of perfect integrity. . ."

Graydon, Coldwell Opposition Leaders Press For Immediate Statement By Premier on McNaughton

By JAMES MCCOOK

OTTAWA, Feb. 5.—(CP)—Two opposition-party leaders in the Commons yesterday urged Prime Minister Mackenzie King to make an immediate statement on the resignation of Lt.-Gen. A. G. L. McNaughton as Canadian army commander overseas, but the government will say nothing until next week at the earliest.

Gordon Graydon, Progressive Conservative house leader, said many rumors were in circulation about Gen. McNaughton's resignation and the full facts should be stated.

Mr. King replied that the most appropriate time for a reply to a question on army affairs would be when Defence Minister Ralston speaks on the war appropriation bill, the first item after the throne speech debate ends.

GRAYDON "AMAZED"

Mr. Graydon said he was "amazed" at the position taken by the prime minister. The government had said Gen. McNaughton left the overseas army command because of ill-health but the general had been quoted in the press as saying he was all right. The government should explain immediately.

Speaker J. A. Glen said a debate could not take place on orders of the day, but M. J. Coldwell, C.C.F. leader, said he supported Mr. Graydon in asking an immediate statement.

Mr. King replied he did not think Mr. Graydon's statements were correct but they indicated there were many matters on which the house wished information. The government would be prepared to consider having a day set aside for full discussion.

FOUR MEMBERS SPEAK

Four members participated in the continued throne speech debate yesterday—J. G. Diefenbaker (P.C., Lake Centre), Dr. M. E. McGarry (L., Inverness-Richmond), Robert Fair (N.D. Battle River) and Joseph Noseworthy (C.C.F., York South).

When the sitting opened, War Services Minister LaFleche announced appointment of W. J. Parker of Winnipeg, president of the Manitoba Pool elevators, as a member of the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation board of governors.

The house approved motions appointing committees on social security and reconstruction to continue the work of similar committees last year.

Mr. Diefenbaker said Gen. McNaughton, as "the architect of Canadian Army efficiency," should be allowed to appear before the house in secret session "and let us know whether or not the ideas that are too frequently being bandied about in the Dominion today have any foundation in fact or in substance."

The Saskatchewan member said he believed there should be closer co-operation with other parts of the empire. Personally, he said, he favored an Empire Council with deliberative powers, continuing from week to week.

CRITICIZES HOME ARMY

Men who were farmers still were being called to compulsory military service for duty in Canada only. This home-defense force cost from $150,000,000 to $175,000,000 a year.

"There are manpower shortages in the key industries and yet the garrison army remains," said Mr. Diefenbaker. "Can it be said any longer that the policy in effect makes for efficiency in the utilization of the manpower resources?"

The call-up for compulsory military service did not represent an even distribution. In every military district of Canada except No. 5 (Quebec), there had been an increase of from 18 to 20 per cent in the male population available for service in the 18-to-45 years class when compared with the number available in the 19-to-45 class.

"With every other military district showing an increase, No. 5 Military District, taking in the 300,000, shows that there are 300,000 men less of the 18-to-45-year class than there were last year in the 19-to-45-year class," Mr. Diefenbaker said.

Call-up figures showed that in Saskatchewan, with an enlistment record of 35.7 per cent, 60 per cent more were being called up than in provinces where voluntary enlistments were least.

RAPS SELECTIVE SERVICE

Mr. Diefenbaker said selective service sent an electrician from Montreal to Drumheller, Alta., to work in the mines but that he was the wrong kind of electrician. He was told to proceed to Flin Flon, Sask., for instructions. After 2½ months he was still at Prince Albert and no selective service officer would take any responsibility. Men had been shifted off their own farms and sent to farms 350 miles away.

The time had come not only for reorganization of selective service but for a change in its personnel so such blunders would not occur, said Mr. Diefenbaker.

The present $65 clothing allowance for men discharged from the forces was insufficient. Depend-

Dear

The days are growing perceptibly longer, telling of the approach of spring. We are not bemoaning sudden change in the weather, for although it is an unpleasant change from the beautiful sunny days enjoyed for the last month, the overcast skies on Wednesday prevented Mr. Groundhog from seeing his shadow, and therefore an early spring may be expected. Local housewives are already beginning to get that look in their eyes that is the forerunner of house-cleaning. Thanks to salvage drives, war charity rummage sales, and book collections for camps, military hospitals and service centres, there won't be such a litter to turn out this year, as others.

The Unexpected Happens

Fears were expressed not long ago that unemployment would become serious in Vancouver through the slowing down of war industry. Instead, there is now reported to be a labor shortage there of "several thousand men", with the season at hand when farming, fishing and canning will further increase the demand.

Vancouver in this respect provides an example of what is likely to happen in most industrial centres as war work falls off. Vast as are the numbers now employed in war production, that is not the only branch of industry where labor is required in abnormal volume. Civilian needs of a hundred kinds are under supplied.

Properly directed, the shifting of labor from slackening war work to expanding civilian production should be accomplished with little time lost to those affected, except in cases where elaborate re-tooling is necessary to change war factories into peacetime producers. Given such direction, and willingness on the part of employees to accommodate themselves to the shifting that is inevitable, the readjustment may be made with a good deal less difficulty than is commonly anticipated.

General McNaughton

After four years under siege conditions in Britain, General McNaughton returned to Canada only to be put under siege by newsmen who were evidently bent on extracting from him a statement that he had not resigned his command because of poor health but had been "fired" for political or other improper reasons.

In response to invitations to "talk", the General said: "I had a bad case of the flu", and for some time had been troubled with low blood pressure. I was really ill at the time of my resignation. I am now assured by the best specialists that there is nothing organically wrong with me at all. They advised me to rest and build up my blood pressure."

Rest and building-up being what the General needs, the doctors might have done him better service if they had advised him to seek the curative conditions somewhere else than in Canada. The supposed imminence of a general election here has created an atmosphere which may be anything but restful, unless he can turn aside the inquisitive scandal-hunter without raising a temperature.
General McNaughton is still a young man, relatively. Given the rest he requires, there will be plenty of opportunity for him to do useful and distinguished public service, whether in military affairs or in the direction of research activities—in which he was formerly employed. Making him a political football, which he evidently does not wish to become, would be no kindness to him and poor service to the country.

More "Sanctions" Needed

Spanish motorists are not driving their cars any more. Franco has ordered them off the roads to save gasoline. That does not look as though he intended to comply with the Allied demand that he stop helping Hitler. The inference is that he is willing to go on fighting the Allies from ambush at the expense of incurring whatever handicaps a lack of gasoline may place upon Spanish industry.

There are things Spain needs more than it needs oil. Foreign food supplies are one of them. It only gets these supplies because Allied blockade vessels have been ordered to let the food-ships pass. It will impose real hardship on the Spanish people if these supplies have to be cut off in order to bring their dictator to an honest regard for the obligations of neutrality.

But consideration for his unfortunate subjects cannot be allowed to interfere if nothing short of this will make Franco stop sending supplies to Germany, call back his "blue" division from the Russian front, and release surrendered Italian ships which he is holding in Spanish ports. By these and some other means he is doing all he can to help Hitler kill Allied soldiers.

If they have to make the unwelcome choice, the Allied leaders should protect their troops and hasten victory by stopping every cargo of food or other necessity they catch headed for a Spanish port, at the cost of whatever hardships may thus be imposed upon Spaniards. It rests with Franco as to whether this decision will have to be made.

He Sees Defeat Coming

Herr Hitler is desperately anxious to make a deal with the western Allies—any sort of a deal that would leave him a free hand to fight Russia. That is the significance of his speech on Sunday. Almost to the exclusion of all other matters, he stressed the idea that if the Red army crashes through the eastern front and over-runs Germany, Russia will become master of Europe and a menace to Britain and the United States. These powers, he warned, would in that event have to fight Bolshevism on their own soil.

If the Fuehrer still had hopes to thus frighten its Allies into breaking with Russia and making terms with him, the hopes were speedily dampened. American bombers blasted Brunswick and Hanover in "saturation" raids, while Sunday night British and Canadian bombers struck Berlin one of the heaviest blows yet delivered. The answer to the oblique proposal of a truce was neither delayed nor ambiguous.

One thing the speech makes clear is that Hitler is a frightened man. In particular he is terrified at the thought of the retribution the Red army may exact for the savagery his forces perpetrated in Russia. And he does not pretend that the airkrieg and the attack through Italy are not body blows to the Reich. He would pay any price to have the bombing stopped, the fighting stalled in Italy, and further invasion plans called off.

Short of announcing unconditional surrender, the Fuehrer could hardly have given plainer proof that he sees defeat closing in upon him. Even the stereotyped declarations that Germany will be victorious lacked the customary fervor, and cannot have carried conviction to doubtful German minds.

No Precedents Set

It was Sunny Alberta during January, beyond a doubt, the sunniest in 25 years, so the meteorological records disclose. But, believe it or not, it was not the warmest January on the score sheet. The average temperature for the month was 16.9 degrees above zero, while the average for January in 1931 was 22 degrees above.

Neither did the mercury climb higher last month than it even before got in January. The peak was 50.2 degrees, while in January of 1931 it rose to 55. Wind during last month is reported "normal", which will surprise a good many people who thought it far below the average. Rainfall in January was a pitiful .04 inches, against 2.50 in 1935; snowfall 4 inches, against an average of 8.3.

The conclusion seems to be that January set no precedents in the weather line, save perhaps in the amount of sunshine. That makes the month "normal" in another respect. The written record differs about as often and as widely as usual from the impressions and recollections upon which most people rely in respect to the weather. It shows that last January was not the warmest on record, nor the calmest, nor the freest from cold snaps. Who did not suppose that it set new marks in one or all these points?

Canada is now the third-ranking trading nation. Our exports last year were exceeded only by those of Great Britain and the United States. In each case of course war equipment and supplies made up a large part of the total. Even so, it is still more remarkable that Britain should have been able to ship out such a huge volume of goods than that Canada should come third from the top of the list.

This Session Can Make or Break the Liberal Party

Failure to Implement a Social Security Plan Held Fatal

By HAROLD L. WEIR

The Speech from the Throne with which the present session of Parliament was opened appeared, and still appears, if we disregard subsequent events, to forecast a general election.

It was filled and running over with a manifestation of social and economic consciousness that did not introduce, it is true, any startling new proposals, but did possess the unique political quality of subscribing to reforms that have been demanded from one end of the country to the other for the past several years.

Harold L. Weir

In fact, it was the inherent popularity of the social security steps proposed which seemed to confirm the widespread conviction that a general election was in sight. For these were principles, many of them, on which Mr. King had already sought the endorsement of the Canadian electorate in 1940. That electorate had already blessed these principles and had politely handed them back to Mr. King with a mandate to carry them out.

Announcement

It would be idle to speculate on the reasons for the obvious change in plans that appeared in the Prime Minister's announcement a few days ago. Perhaps Mr. King, like so many others, had been anticipating an early end to the European war and had thought it well to get in under the wire with his election before an armistice was signed. Perhaps, then, he decided that the war's end was more remote than he had hoped, and that if the American people were prepared to stretch their rigid customs so far as to offer a President a fourth term, the Canadian people would not boggle too much at the not unknown extension of a Parliament's life for a year or so.

At any rate, and whatever the reason, Mr. King made his famous announcement that a general election would not be held this year, and that nothing would induce him to break the continuity of government while the war lasted.

There are those who say in this announcement a smart political trick by which the Prime Minister hoped to make more sure of taking his opponents by surprise. It was conjectured by some that he would simulate political frustration during the coming session, declare passionately that his war program was being stultified and demand an appeal to the country, still using his social security program as bait.

I find it difficult to agree with that view. The announcement of no general election this year reflected so accurately Mr. King's own hopes and ambitions that there seems to be no reasonable ground for assuming that he was not telling the truth.

Mr. King has an ambition to sit longer in the prime minister's chair than any other Canadian. He is determined to lead Canada to the peace conference. That hope is vital and fundamental. With him, why men, if, as I suspect, he had come to the conclusion that the war would not end unexpectedly and thus catch him with waning political strength, should he submit his ambitions to the characteristic fickleness of a democratic popular vote?

Why, too, should he oblige Mr. Godbout of Quebec and go to the country before the Quebec elections and thus confuse provincial and federal issues?

I think the inference is inescapably clear. Whatever was in his mind at the time the Throne Speech was written, there is no doubt in the world now that he proposes to hold on to the last possible moment without a general election.

If that is the case, what then becomes of the social security and economic reform proposals in the Speech from the Throne? The press of Canada, Liberal as well as opposition, has not been reticent about those proposals. Press comment has very largely reflected the widely-held Canadian opinion that those proposals would be believed when they were actually in operation, that full credit would be given to Mr. King's Liberal government if and when those proposals were concretely implemented.

This press comment, too, might have had a great deal to do with influencing Mr. King's decision against an election.

At any rate, there they are. And what do the Liberal members who form a majority in parliament propose to do about them?

If this Liberal session of parliament decides to make an honest man of Mr. King and regularize his trifling with reform, the Liberal party will again stand just as high in public esteem and trust as it did in 1940. There will be a good chance for the Liberals to escape that condemnation that traditionally attaches itself to a party that controls a nation in wartime. Even the stigma which for some unaccountable reason, fastens itself to a government that wins a major military victory might be forgotten in public gratitude for the very real and desperately needed benefits following a policy which frees a people of private credit and money monopoly and extends to them the benefactions of social security.

If Mr. King's social security proposals and economic reforms are translated into actual operable law this session, the Liberal party will be re-made, revived and restored.

Discredited

If, on the other hand, the Liberal government decides to put these plans into cold storage and save them up for the general election, when it does come, there is an equally good chance that the Canadian Liberal party will suffer the fate of the English Liberal party after the last war.

Certainly Mr. King, in that case, will suffer the fate of Mr. Bennett in 1935 when that now ennobled gentleman came out belatedly with a policy of reform that no one in his right senses could believe.

The mere fact of putting certain proposals into a throne speech does not give the party that so introduces them any proprietary rights over them.

All the Canadian political parties are fairly scrambling, or pretending, to give the Canadian people various types of social security and economic reform.

The Liberal party, right now, has the inestimable advantage of being in a position to make those offers real and to increase its prestige enormously.

To fail to do so will be party suicide.

Mr. King was given a mandate in 1940 to enact certain social security measures and to make the creation of credit and currency a purely governmental affair. Instead, he has turned loose in the finance department a man who, in financial matters, is the worst reactionary who ever held that post.

This, then, is Mr. King's last chance. If social security and economic reform fail to materialize this session, Mr. King will inevitably go down when the appeal to the people is made. And there is a fatal chance that the Liberal party will go with him.

finances; they have been given the best of Canada's natural resources, and furnished government funds by the millions to expand their plants and factories. The government has obligingly acceded to the wish of big business to have wages pegged at a very low rate, about one-half what the American workmen are getting.

The laboring people are receiving special treatment by the government too, but it is especially mean; our wages have been pegged, our jobs frozen, we cannot change our jobs or go where we would like, but must go where we are sent, and take what they give us.

We all know that the farmers have not had a square deal and little help from the government, but for the farmers to classify labor with big business, just shows how successful the business interests have been in dividing the common people of Canada, nearly every paper in Canada carries articles intended to show the farmers that all their troubles are caused by the high wages paid to union labor, and at the same time to convince the laborer, that the farmer is responsible for the high cost of everything.

Let us not be deceived, our interests are common.

Moscow Plans

Editor, Bulletin: Re. your remarks in a recent item on your editorial page you agree apparently with Stalin's hesitancy or refusal in recognizing the Polish boundary as established previous to the infamous pact between Stalin and Hitler in the partition of Poland in Sept. 1939.

But even Anthony Eden now admits that the Russian claim is preposterous, and of course Premier Churchill is outspoken on the same question.

There is a general feeling that the Moscow clique is looking only to the interests of communism in its dealings with all its smaller neighbors: the Teheran Conference, and the Atlantic Charter, notwithstanding. And here is perhaps the greatest danger that has appeared in World War No. II, since the conflict began. For if Christianity (in the name of which this war is waged) fails to make its power felt, or falls on its knees to plead for terms with Moscow communism, then this war is already lost, as well as all the other wars that Europe has waged against paganism and tyranny in the past, as the Crusades, to save Christianity. If might is still right, then all is lost.

Defends C.C.F.

Editor, Bulletin: For some years now I have considered the editorial page of the Edmonton Bulletin the best of any daily paper in Alberta. The editorial policy is generally fair, and the special feature articles provide a good taste of American journalism. Mr. Weir appears once or twice a week to give us a few laughs, with his super-intelligent efforts, which clever cartoon serves to increase the favorable impression produced by the rest of the paper.

However, I have some criticism to offer regarding the editor's recent comment on C.C.F. policies. Judging from the editorial appearing in the Bulletin on February 1st, he has private information to the effect that the plan proposed by Mr. Coldwell is not the one which will be used when the C.C.F. is elected to power. On what does he base these statements? If they are based on facts, then the people are entitled to know them, lest they be misled into voting for something they don't want.

This editorial presumes that since the farmer produces food, he is responsible for the price of it when it reaches the consumer. That sounds like reasoning borrowed from one of Mr. Weir's columns. How does the editor account for the spread between the price paid to the wheat packers for wheat, and the price to the consumer?

Persuade your Liberal party to remedy these and similar inequalities and perhaps you may save part of that former vote you are so fearful of losing.

Common Interests

Editor, Bulletin: I have read with much interest your report of the resolutions passed by the Alberta Farmers Union.

We can add our approval to most of the resolutions and remarks contained in your report, but I would like to point out one serious error and misconception, that seems to be prevalent among farmers and farm people, and that is classifying the laboring people with industry and big business, and as receiving special treatment by the Federal Government.

It is true that the Federal Government has acceded to every request of big business and organized

Bank Experts Say:

The amount of money in existence varies only with the action of the banks in increasing or diminishing deposits. We all know how this is effected. Every bank loan and every bank purchase of securities creates a deposit, and every repayment of a bank loan and every bank sale destroys one.—Rt. Hon. Reginald McKenna in "Post-War Bank Policy."

TRENTON
COURIER-ADVOCATE

Newspapers get panned for everything under the sun, but it remained for a Toronto woman to tell the Globe and Mail that it was no good any more for wrapping garbage. This charge brought the following clever retort from the editor: "But, come what may, we must answer this canard. We can't speak for the Telegram. Nor can we talk for the Star. But we can say without equivocation that the Globe and Mail is just as good for wrapping garbage as it ever was."

Whatever is done about the people with high gasoline categories, who are able to pile up mileage, certainly there should be a very substantial cut in the license fee for those motorists who are held down to the minimum allowance—those with an AA sticker on their windshields.

State Must Create Currency, Credit

The Liberal Advocate
Prime Minister King announced in Parliament, "Once a nation parts with the control of its currency and credit, it matters not who makes the nation's laws. Until the control of the issue of currency and credit is restored to the Government and recognized as its most conspicuous and sacred responsibility, all talk of the sovereignty of parliament and of democracy is idle and futile."

Just a few days ago the Archbishop of Canterbury came out publicly and denounced our present system whereby the nation's credit is controlled by private interests, by saying "Money or credit which does duty for money, has become in effect a monopoly, since the amalgamation which left Britain with five main banks. It seems to be a primary political principle that wherever you have something which is universally needed, which is governed as a monopoly, that monopoly should be taken over by the State. The banks should be limited in their lending power to the amount deposited by their creditors, while the issue of new credit should be the function of public authority."

Canada is a democracy—and if democracy is to survive we must cast overboard that which has been challenging the very principles of such a state. And the most outstanding obstacle to the functioning of the Anglo-American conception of what democracy means, has been the hook-up with international finance, whereby we operate on an obsolete money system, which is the relic of medieval times, a system that has been responsible for more wars and privation than any other agency. As Thurman W. Arnold, United States Assistant Attorney-General, has put it, "Some good will come out of this war if we can blast the theory of scarcity out of our economy."

Says Absentee Mothers Cause Of Delinquency

VICTORIA, Feb. 5.—(CP)—Women with children under 16 should be kept at home to raise their families, Mrs. Tillie J. Rolston (C.C.—Vancouver Point Grey) said in the British Columbia legislature yesterday while speaking in the Throne Speech debate.

She contended the absentee mother problem already has produced the "most critical juvenile delinquency situation in our entire history and the situation becomes more acute every day as more and more mothers swap aprons for overalls."

THOUSANDS NEGLECTED

"We have thousands of underfed neglected children who are key carriers while mother wields a blow torch," Mrs. Rolston went on.

"Juvenile delinquents are learning every form of vice and crime. While we are fighting international gangsters, we are breeding in our own midst countless young gangsters who might have been useful citizens if their mothers had not put activities outside the home ahead of their duty to their children and society."

The Conservative coalition member said some nurseries established for war industries should be continued as part of the educational system but mothers of young children should stay at home to take care of them.

Where husband and wife are both working there is terrific strain and it is a miracle where such a marriage endures, she said, adding "no wonder British Columbia is becoming a mecca for divorce."

20,000 War Workers Continuing Strike In Ohio, Michigan

DETROIT, Feb. 5.—(AP)—A strike of an estimated 20,000 Michigan and Ohio war workers continued Friday night in the face of condemnation from spokesmen for the armed forces and government agencies.

Meantime, the striking union's leader—Matthew Smith, national secretary of the Mechanics Educational Society of America—declined to invoke sanctions and penalties against the union.

The strike was called to protest a government agency's handling of a jurisdictional dispute. Smith telegraphed heads of the factories affected that "we have no dispute with your management."

Canadian Navy Lists Two Men War Casualties

OTTAWA, Feb. 5.—(CP)—The Royal Canadian Navy issued yesterday its 228th casualty list of the war, containing two names and including one man missing on active service and now presumed dead.

Also listed as died from serious injuries suffered on active service at sea was Cook Cyril Duron, whose official number is V-13735 and whose next-of-kin is a friend, John Hudoc of Fox Valley, Sask.

PATCHOGUE, N.Y., Feb. 5.—(AP)—A sign over the cafeteria of Patchogue high school yesterday said "Quiet, Hospital Zone." It was put there because a nameless, part cocker spaniel dog wandered into school at 9 a.m. and settled herself under a stove in the cafeteria kitchen. At 10 a.m. the first pup was born. By 1 p.m. there were six pups. Mother and pups, now in a carton under the stove, are doing well.

Increase Supply Of Tomato Juice

OTTAWA, Feb. 5.—(CP)—The prices board said last night that a larger proportion of canned tomato juice will be available to consumers this month and during March. Between Feb. 1 and March 31 inclusive, wholesalers may at any time increase their allocation of tomato juice by 10 per cent.

Originally this allocation was set at 30 per cent. It now may be increased to 40 per cent during the period mentioned. The increase applies to tomato juice only.

During February and March retailers may sell not more than 20 per cent of their total quotas of tomato juice in each of these months. It was originally intended, the board said, that in February and March the quota would be held to 15 per cent.

The catch is that after April 1 the quotas will be smaller, since the increase authorized will make a proportionately reduced quantity of juice available for distribution after that date.

Nearly Lands Plane On Nazi Airdrome

A BOMBER BASE IN ENGLAND, Feb. 5.—(AP)—Lieut. Jacob Kurtsburg of Philadelphia came within 200 feet of landing his heavy bomber on a German-occupied airfield yesterday but realized his mistake in time and escaped with only a few bullet holes in the bomber's tail. Engine trouble, bad weather and a faulty compass caused the crew to lose their bearings and glide toward the Nazi field thinking they were back over England.

To Speak Here

Rabbi Samuel Wohl, of the Isaac M. Wise Temple, Cincinnati, Ohio and chairman of the National Council of the Histadrut League, who will be the guest speaker at a grand reception at the Talmud Torah Hall, 103 street at 8 p.m., Sunday, Feb. 13.

Noted Jewish Leader Coming Here on Feb. 11

In conjunction with the tour on behalf of the Palestine Histadrut, Rabbi Samuel Wohl of Cincinnati will visit Edmonton on Friday, Feb. 11, and will speak at the Talmud Torah Hall at 8 p.m., Feb. 13. Rabbi Wohl is Rabbi of the Isaac M. Wise Temple. This pulpit has become historic in Reform Judaism because it was occupied by the founder, Isaac M. Wise.

Rabbi Wohl has been active in world Jewish affairs for many years and has visited many European countries. He has conferred personally with leaders in Germany, France, Italy, Poland, Russia and Palestine. The present tour will bring Rabbi Wohl to the major communities of Western Canada and the Pacific Coast where he will convey the message of the Histadrut, the Federation of Jewish Pioneers in Palestine.

Several years ago Rabbi Wohl was elected National President of the League for Labor Palestine of the United States and Canada. He is now Chairman of the National Council of the League.

Kiwanians Plan Bird Competition

It is the intention of the Kiwanis Club to sponsor another Bird House contest this year at Easter among the school children.

The object of the contest is to secure for certain species of birds, suitable locations for nest building, since their natural haunts are gradually being destroyed; to encourage the study of bird life and bird habits, that we may better appreciate their presence; to protect the birds, because they are great benefactors to man, as they reduce the insect, weed, and small mammal pests in our gardens.

The classes are:

No. 1—The best natural and practical house for bird life.

No. 2—The house exhibiting the best workmanship.

No. 3—The most unique or odd house—sticks, bark, or old cans.

No. 4—The best open house or food shelter.

Any one, or all, of the classes may be entered.

There will be three age groups, for boys between eight and sixteen years; and the same for girls.

Prizes of $5 War Savings Certificates will be given for the best house in each of the four classes, with a grand prize of a $5 War Savings Certificate and cup for the best house in the show. Cash prizes in each class will be given.

Through the courtesy of Kiwanis Alex Entwistle and Kiwanian Leslie Pugsley, every boy and girl entering an acceptable bird house in the competition will receive a free pass to a Saturday morning show at the Empress Theatre.

"The Jews look to Britain for fulfillment of the Balfour declaration, recognizing Jewish historic rights to their ancient lands."

He spoke at a meeting last night sponsored by the Winnipeg branch of the Federation of Labor in Palestine. Rabbi Wohl is president of the federation.

TODAY'S MESSAGE

By REV. L. E. MAXWELL
Principal, Prairie Bible Institute
Three Hills, Alberta.

REALITY

BEFORE me as I write is the picture of two crucified Chinamen, crucified for their crimes. Now Jesus Christ, according to his own testimony, came into this world to die between two such criminals, to be "numbered with the transgressors." He came to be exposed and mocked and crucified—all for one purpose: "This is my blood . . . shed for the remission of sins."

But the average man is moved less by the story of that Divine dying than by the sight of any crucified mortal. As one well known in the literary world today boldly admitted: "Well, I think I accept the facts of the New Testament as true, and believe all the facts of the life, teaching and death of Christ; but they have no more effect on me than a fairy tale. A striking play at the theatre moves me much more, and yet I feel sure that if these facts meant more to me personally than mere historic incidents, I would give my life to Christ and serve Him at whatever cost." But he forthwith refused to take the place of a sinner before God.

Ah, there we have it. The cross defies all such approach. Any attempt to see the cross with any other lens, so to speak, than that of a sinner honestly and tearfully in search of God is to fail to catch the picture. The cross defies any other exposure. The unforgiven sinner must come to condemn himself—only then will he see the cross.

Was it necessary for Jesus to shed His blood for the forgiveness of sins? Don't ask the literary man, or the theologian, or the Pharisee, or the religionist. Ask the sinner, the man who has come guilty to the cross. He sees it. It is as simple as two and two make four. He sees crystal clear that "without shedding of blood is no remission."

We may support the Red Cross, admire a white cross, or even wear a gold cross about our necks, all with no more effect than if we beheld a crucified Chinaman. The God-man Who once shed His blood is alive today to reveal to sinful and tear-blinded eyes the meaning and majesty of His death. The dying thief discovered the power of that cross next to his, and in one moment was made ready for Paradise—without baptism, without good works, without turning over a new leaf. But he was guilty, and owned it.

"Acceptable Service" is the title of the sermon to be delivered Sunday at morning worship in the Central Lutheran church. The Rev. M. S. Johnson will have charge of the services.

The Bulletin's SPORT SHOW by Hal Dean

PUSIEST man in the city for the next few days will be James McCool, the penalty for being secretary of the annual bonspiel of the Alberta Curling Association. Jim has been the guiding genius behind eight of the big annual curling events and before the day is out will be up to his ears in the ninth.

The bonspiel which starts on Monday morning promises to be one of the most difficult to handle of any ever held in the city, in view of the ice situation. Up to yesterday 48 outside and 19 city rinks had entered, thus pointing to a probable total of well over eighty.

Only 16 sheets of ice are available this year, 10 at the Royal and six at Alberta Ave., the two rinks still operating. Last winter the Granite's six sheets were in use, but since then the Granite has joined in the war effort along with Edmonton and Thistle, which had previously received a "call-up" notice.

And so this time, the prospect is not less than five and more likely six draws each day and about the only consolation sports writers will be able to get out of what to them is an especially bad looking situation, is that somebody else will have to stay up all night too.

SAINTS IN UPSET VICTORY

AND so basketball has also been added to the list of "slippery" games, but in the process the Hon. Solon Low's Latter Day Saints have placed themselves in a very favoured position in so far as play-off spots are concerned. Although the Saints were not given much chance to knock over the Yanks last night, they really have been getting along very nicely without Phil Sonntag, not with the team since Dec. 3. In winning two of their four games, the boys have been playing well together, with Leon Jenkins and Dee Elefthery punching in most of the points.

Jenkins has scored 38 and Elefthery 31 during the last four games. The 10 which Jimmy Unopolis tossed in were decidedly valuable last night, one of them coming in the overtime along with the two by Elefthery which gave the Saints their 36-33 win.

Warren Taulbee, of U.S. Hospital with 17 points was top man for the four teams last night and he counted all of them in the first three quarters. John Gullekson bagged 11 and he went scoreless in both the first and third quarters. The tall Engineer now has a total of 146 points for nine games or an average of 16.2. Taulbee's total is 120 for seven games or a 17-1. Paul Blawie, who collected 14 points has appeared in eight games and his total is 96.

Alberta's Senior Entry

Edmonton Aces Make Debut Against A.O.S. Sextet Sunday

EDMONTON Aces, probable representatives for Alberta in the senior Allan Cup hockey playdowns will make their local debut tomorrow afternoon when they play the sextet from No. 2 A.O.S. on the latter's ice. The game will commence at 3 o'clock and Neil Colville will referee.

Official sanction for the team to enter the Canadian title chase has not yet been obtained from the C.A.H.A., but it is expected the parent body will okay the entry in view of the fact that the A.H.A. has already taken this step.

As previously announced, the Calgary Buffaloes have decided to enter the intermediate playdowns, thus leaving the Aces the only seniors in the province. Several work-outs have been held during the past two weeks at 119 Street rink.

Should the team be given the green light by the C.A.H.A., in all probability some of the games in the series with the British Columbia champions—more than likely Trail—will take place in Calgary.

Outfitting of the club has been possible through the generosity of a few local citizens and the team will appear in new red and white uniforms tomorrow afternoon.

The roster of the Aces is not yet complete, but the following are expected to take part in the game against A.O.S.: goal, Earl Robertson; defence, Emil Hanson, Bill Ingram, Bruce MacKay (Varsity), Ab Superstein; forwards, Leroy Goldsworthy, Paul Runge, Louis Holmes, Emory Hanson, Jimmy Graham, Jimmy Anderson, Molyneux (formerly of Yorkton), Bob Schrader (Varsity) and Tommy Brant.

Saskatoon Rinks Decide Consols

SASKATOON, Feb. 5.—(CP)—Jack Forsyth of Saskatoon Granites won the Northern Saskatchewan British Consols title here Friday night with a 10-9 victory over Dalt Henderson, Saskatoon Nulana, in the play-off between the two group winners.

Both Forsyth and Henderson played through their groups without defeat. The members of the winning rink were Jack Forsyth, skip; Percy Clement, second; Heric Clement, Percy's 18-year-old son, third, and Rollie Postlewaite, lead. Henderson was supported by Bill Hain, third; Sid Peat, second, and Slim Halliday, lead.

Commandos Beat Regina Navy 6-2

REGINA, Feb. 5.—(CP)—Regina Commandos moved into first place in the Southern Saskatchewan Junior Hockey League here last night with a 6-2 win over Regina Navy.

Jack Wilkie, with two, Larry Reardon, Rick Sandberg, Charlie Sanderson and George Beach scored for Commandos. Les Barrett and Tommy Hogan netted for Navy.

Tinker Improved

ORLANDO, Fla., Feb. 5.—(AP)—Improvement in the condition of Joe Tinker Friday permitted physicians to remove the 63-year-old former baseball star from the oxygen tent in which he has been battling against an aggravated case of influenza. It was emphasized, however, that the condition of the famous member of the Tinker-to-Evers-to-Chance double play combination must still be regarded as serious.

Olympics 11-7

BOSTON, Feb. 5.—(AP)—Boston Olympics defeated the New York Rovers 11-7 in an Eastern United States Hockey League game here tonight.

Engineers Turn Back Hospital Cagers 54-40 for 9th Straight Victory

Saints Win From Yanks in Overtime 36-33

L.D.S. Club Is Now Tied For 2nd Spot

SCORING three points in a five-minute overtime session to break a deadlock, Latter Day Saints upset the U.S. Army Yanks 36-33 in the curtain raiser of Friday night's Edmonton Men's (International) Basketball League doubleheader at Western. U.S. Engineers turned back the powerful Station Hospital squad 54-40 in the second fixture.

The victory for the L.D.S. team moved them into a second place tie with the Yanks in "A" section while Engineers remained at the top of the league with nine straight triumphs and Hospital in fourth spot.

During the intermission between the doubleheader, the U.S. Engineers were presented with the Motor Car Supply trophy for coming up with the 1943 league champions. The two teams taking part in last night's afterpiece lined up and presentation was made by H. J. Smith to Harley Miller.

THRILLING FINISH
Jimmy Unopolis and Leon Jenkins came through in fine style for Latter Day Saints, who are the first team to chalk up an overtime win this season, counting 10 points each while Paul Blawie turned in the best performance for the U.S. club with 14 points.

The fixture, which was nothing out of the ordinary in the first half, had one of the most thrilling finishes of any game this season. After trailing most of the way, the Saints went ahead 33-32 on a basket by Unopolis with only two minutes to go until regulation time after Jenkins made good a technical foul which brought the technicians within one point of tying the score.

The L.D.S. squad stalled for time following Unopolis' field goal, but Wayne Adams' successful free throw with only 15 seconds to go. Adams, however, missed a chance to win the game for the Yanks when he was unsuccessful on the first of the two shots awarded him.

ELEFTHERY HOOPS WINNER
Dee Elefthery sank a long shot early in the extra session to put L.D.S. ahead 35-33 and Unopolis capitalized on a free shot with more than two minutes remaining to end the counting. The losers had a couple of nice chances in the two minutes, but failed to drop the ball through the hoop.

Yanks hit a fast pace in the first quarter and out-scored the Saints 14-8, but were unable to keep it up as the latter added 13 to the losers nine in the second stanza. The Army Air Corps team was still ahead at half time when the score board read 23-21, however.

Play was close in the third and fourth quarters, but the Saints, who had led 29-28 at the end of the third, won the game 36-33.

Following is the box score:

AYERS SCORES 15 AS ENGINEERS TRIUMPH
The unbeaten U.S. Engineers turned aside the threat of the U.S. Station Hospital club in the second game last night when they emerged on the long end of a 54-40 score in a game featured by long shooting and close checking.

Earl Ayers came through with 15 points to pace the Engineers, who had to go all out to gain their victory, but Warren Taulbee, high scoring Hospital centre, marked up 17 in a well-worked scoring honours for the night.

Both teams played hard and had the Hospital squad been able to continue the brand of ball they displayed in the first quarter, the league leaders would have been even harder pressed.

The winners only used five players and every one of them came through with at least eight points while the medical men only had to rely on one replacement. Every playing member of the losers also entered the scoring.

KEEN COMPETITION
The first session supplied the keenest competition. Leonard Wooding opening the counting for Hospital on a break away and Phil Lusk made it 4-0 a short time afterwards. Harley Miller dropped in one for the Engineers to start the club on the road to victory, but Morris Keifer followed with another basket for the losers on a smart three way passing play with Taulbee and Wooding to make it 6-2 after about five minutes had been played.

Miller marked up another field goal, Taulbee dropped in a long shot to make 8-4 and then Earl Ayers and Mike Kroma came through for the Engineers to deadlock the count at 8-8. Taulbee put Hospital ahead again on another drifter from outside the winners' zone, but Ayers picked up John Gullekson's rebound and followed

Big Meeting Opens Today

Baseball Heads to Discuss Sports Post-War Future

NEW YORK, Feb. 5.—(AP)—Baseball's hot stove was blazing hot Friday in informal closed meetings as major and minor league officials converged on the big town to open a four-day session during which the sport's post-war future will be discussed.

Commissioner Kenesaw Mountain Landis has called a meeting of the post-war committees of the majors and minors for 11 a.m. today. The National League will hold its schedule meeting Tuesday. It is possible the American League also will have a session early next week.

While the big boys are looking to the future, the International League will adopt its 1944 schedule of 154 games today. Landis and William G. Bramham, minor league board read 23-21, however.

With another two points to make it 12-10 and put the victors out in front to stay.

35-25 AT THE HALF
Bob Channess scored on a rush down the floor for Engineers and Taulbee sank a pass from Woodring before the session ended to make the score-board read 14-12 going into the next act.

The second quarter was a free-scoring session and saw the Engineers add 21 points, Gullekson with nine, Ayers and Kroma with four each and Miller and Channess with two apiece, while they held their rivals to 13 to gain a 10 counter margin at half time, 35-25.

Station Hospital, with Taulbee firing six, Lusk three and Keifer, who played an outstanding defensive game, one, cut the lead to five in the third chapter by out-scoring the winners 10-5, but were held to five counters in the last as the Engineers went on to earn a 14-point margin of victory by tallying 14 markers to the losers' five in the last frame.

U.S. Army Boxers To Hold Tourney

PLANS are being completed for a U.S. Army boxing tournament to be staged at the No. 3 "M" Depot on Wednesday and Thursday, Feb. 16-17. The purpose of the meet is to decide the championship in each weight division of 112, 118, 126, 135, 147, 160, 175 pounds and in the heavyweight division for U.S. Army personnel here in Edmonton and vicinity. Considerable of first-class talent will be available for the championship fights.

A team championship trophy will be awarded to the team which entered the largest number of participants also based on the number of wins and losses scored by the team in the meet.

All units participating are requested to note that the number of men fighting will have quite a bit of effect on the points possible for them to score and win the team trophy.

A sportsmanship trophy will be given to the best sportsman in the tourney. Prizes consisting of cups will be awarded all winners and each man taking part, win or lose, will be given an emblem symbolic of participation in the tournament.

All entries must be in the office of Lt. George Regito, Air Base athletic officer, before midnight Feb. 12. All American Army and Air Force units stationed here have been notified of the meet and have been invited to participate. It is thought that nearly all of them will be represented by a team and that some excellent fights are in the offing.

Boxers from Station 19, the Air Base Station, have already taken part in two boxing shows and have shown some pretty good fighters. The first show was staged in the No. 3 "M" Depot arena with Canadian military units as opponents and the second was held at Camrose last Saturday night with the

City Midget League

Canadians Beat Leafs 2-1, E.A. Cees Blank Mapleos 1-0

IN THE fastest Midget game of the season played at 96th Street rink, Canadians took a 2-1 decision from Maple Leafs in a regular league fixture on Friday night. The E.A.C. team shut out Mapleos 1-0 at 119 Street rink.

The Canadian Athletic Club entry took a one goal lead late in the first period and increased it to 2-0 early in the third. Maple Leafs secured their lone counter at 12 minutes.

With both clubs playing a strong defensive game and both goalies Jolicoeur for Leafs and Norm Kumitch in Canadian nets in great form, it was not until 18 minutes had elapsed before Doug McClocklin combined with Clayton Richmond for the Canucks' first score.

Neither club had any edge in the middle session, but at seven minutes in the third period Canadians went further ahead, Richmond converting a pass from McClocklin.

Stan Patterson counted for Leafs five minutes later with the assistance of Krook, but the Canadians managed to hold onto their 2-1 advantage for the remainder of the period.

Harry Jeske finally broke up the game when he beat Eric Patterson from close in with only a few minutes left. Jack Slattery drew an assist on the lone goal.

Patterson was the standout for the Mapleos, his work in the nets being the feature of the evening.

Cpl. Alex (Seabiscuit) Kaleta

of Currie

—Canadian Army (M.D. 13) Cartoon.

The "Canmore Kid"—Cpl. Alex, "Seabiscuit" Kaleta—who is having an outstanding season with the Currie Army club, will be seen in action again tonight at Calgary's Victoria arena when the Calgary soldiers tangle with Red Deer Army Wheelers in the Central Alberta Senior Garrison League. Kaleta, tabbed "Seabiscuit" several seasons back because of his tireless skating, played for Canmore Intermediates, Lethbridge Maple Leafs, Calgary Stampede, and then for Regina Vic-Aces. With the latter club he centered both lines for a while when injuries left the club short-handed. Kaleta then returned to help Lethbridge win the Alberta title and go on to the Western Canada final, where they bowed out to Regina Rangers, then moved to Chicago Black Hawks of the N.H.L., where he was fourth leading rookie of the year. Last season he played with Currie and captured league scoring title.

NEW YORK, Feb. 5.—Charles H. Graham, president of the San Francisco Seals, proposed today that the double "A" minor leagues "stop subsidizing the major leagues" by giving them choice double "A" players for the $7,500 draft price.

Graham, representing the Pacific Coast League on the minors' post-war planning committee, suggested that the set draft price be eliminated and that a combination major-minor board of appraisal be set up to determine the true value of drafted players.

Making his proposal to the minors' planning committee, he speculated, white-haired Graham emphasized the case of Ed Carlett, the Seattle outfielder who recently was drafted by the Chicago White Sox.

SUBJECT TO DRAFT

GRAHAM said: "Carlett, formerly a southpaw pitcher, was converted into an outfielder, and during the 1943 season he blossomed out as one of the best outfielders in the coast league. Unfortunately Seattle was unable to make a reasonable deal for Carlett before the Sept. 10th deadline; so he became subject to the draft. The White Sox got him for the $7,500 draft price—a player that's worth about $25,000."

The 66-year-old San Francisco proxy declared that almost every year some club in the double "A's"—the International League, American Association and Pacific Coast League—has to sacrifice an outstanding player for a song because of the set draft price.

"This unfair practice has been going on a long time," he continued. "Back in 1926, I brought Lefty O'Doul to the San Francisco club from the Hollywood club at a cost of $7,500. At that time the draft price was only $3,000. Well, the Giants drafted him from San Francisco for $5,000 in 1927, and I lost $2,500 on the deal alone—not to mention what O'Doul actually was worth."

PRESIDENT 26 YEARS

BIG CHARLEY, who has been president of the Seals for 26 years, assured reporters that he is optimistic over the Pacific coast's baseball outlook for 1944. He pointed out that the coast circuit's receipts were larger last season than in '42, although attendance fell off a bit.

Receipts increased, he explained, "because about 60 per cent of those fans who normally sit in the bleachers had money enough to move into the grand stands."

"The public wants baseball," he stressed. "The situation is much different than in the first world war when the Pacific Coast League had to quit in July of 1918. The war news was bad then. Russia had quit, leaving a great burden on the Allies, particularly the United States. But in the current war, the news generally has been good. Moreover, a quarter-century of education has made everyone more

"Challenge" Cup Hockey

Westglen Hi Juniors
Trim Eastwood 4-3

LED by Eric MacDonald who fired in three goals, Westglen defeated Eastwood 4-3 in the opening game of the high school "challenge" cup series (junior division) at 96 Street rink on Friday afternoon. The winners will defend the trophy against Strathcona next week.

After Phil Jones and Burke had given the Eastwood team a 2-0 lead in the first period, Jack Brown counted for Westglen and MacDonald's first two goals sent the new cup holders ahead in the second session. Jack Klesko tied the score with two minutes to go in the final stanza and MacDonald then came up with the winner with seconds remaining.

In spite of some very fine saves by Barry Shields in the Westglen nets, Eastwood took an early lead. Phil Jones counted just after two minutes and Burke added another six minutes later. Brown netted Westglen's first at the 12-minute mark to leave the score 2-1. In the second period Westglen began to take control of the play with the Brown-Jim Halliday-MacDonald line doing most of the attacking. Jones and Klesko were serving penalties then MacDonald secured the goal which gave Westglen the lead for the first time on a brilliant solo rush.

Third period play was highlighted by the rushing of Phil Jones who had also turned in a standout game on defence for Eastwood. Clem Kerr played a stout defensive game for Westglen. Jack Brown set up several goal scoring chances, but Jack Klesko eventually came through with the tying goal for Eastwood.

When overtime appeared almost a certainty MacDonald won the game on a pass from Brown. Referee MacStewart dealt out five penalties.

SUMMARY
First period—1, Eastwood, Jones
2:05; 2, Eastwood, Burke 8:00; 3, Westglen, Brown 12:00. No penalties.
Second period—4, Westglen, MacDonald 6:00; 5, Westglen, MacDonald, 14:00. Penalties—Clarke, Jones, Brown, Klesko.

Stadium Bantams
Defeat West End
By Score of 9 to 2

Paced by Terry Melnychuk who gathered in three goals, the Stadium Flyers raced to a one-sided 9-2 victory over the West End Bantams in a Canadian Athletic Club Bantam league fixture played at the Stadium rink last night.

This contest saw the winners in top-notch form while on the other hand Dave McKenzie's losing squad was playing away off its usual standard.

The Stadium Kids scored three unassisted goals in the initial stanza and they came from the sticks of Dick Behm, Peter Carp and Melnychuk; Bud Loftus assisted by Ken Calvert, counted for the West Enders.

The West Enders cut the margin to one marker early in the second frame as Loftus and Calvert teamed up to duplicate their first period effort. However, for the balance of the session, the Flyers took command and when the smoke had cleared they had chalked up five tallies: Behm from Peter Barabash, Jack Grace from Jerry Sweeney and Don Haley, Melnychuk from Eddie Wiederspiel and Stan Cudmore, and Carp, unassisted, being the order.

Melnchuk, assisted by Cudmore, scored the winner's final goal in the last canto.

TORONTO, Feb. 5.—(CP)—One of the strongest hockey teams in the country at the moment is the almost unheralded Navy team at Deep Brook, N.S. It includes Bob Goldham, Ab Welsh, Jack Fritz, Red Garrett, Vic Lofvendahl, Bill Heindl, Ben Juzda, Paul Pidcock, Ritchie Nicol, Wally Stefaniw, Scotty Mair, Joey Johns, George Gee. Six are former professionals and the others outstanding amateurs.

Someone caused a sensation for 5,000 fans at a Vancouver hockey game the other night by tossing a "Mickey" onto the ice. It was empty and the excitement died quickly.

PATRICK BREATHE AGAIN: Despite reports that Bryan Hex-tall and Ott Heller of New York Rangers have received their United States draft call, publicity man Jim McGinley, McKernan, Loftus, McEwan, Parker, Townsend, Stewart, Sylvestre, Philion, Calvert.

Hendy says neither has yet received his call-up. Both are registered with U.S. Selective Service and may receive call-up notices later. In that case they may elect to join the Canadian armed forces as DIT Clapper of Boston did.

MEMORY LANE:

This season's service hockey difficulties were not new. In 1917 the Toronto 228th Battalion entered the National Hockey Association, forerunner of the N.H.L., and the squawks about who was in the army and who wasn't reverberated throughout Quebec and Ontario. In the middle of the squabble, the soldiers withdrew from the league and a few days later were en route overseas. The 228th lineup included Gene Lockhart, Goldie Progers, Howard McNamara, George McNamara, Dutch Arbour, Duke Keats, Eddie Oatman, Gordon Meeking, Roxy Beaudro.

INCIDENTALLY:

Tom Longboat, the famous old Indian marathoner, has quit his job with the city of Toronto works department and is looking for other employment. Tom's arthritis has slowed him up a mile. . . Reasons Three-Fold

True Significance of Argentine Action Will Be Realized Later On

This is the tenth of a series of articles by Sumner Welles, former United States Under Secretary of State, which appear exclusively each week in The Edmonton Bulletin.—EDITOR.

By SUMNER WELLES

Former United States Under Secretary of State

The far-reaching importance of the step now taken by the Argentine government in severing relations with Germany and Japan will be realized more fully as time goes on.

accumulated earnings of the organization, and which, therefore, came also out of the producing and consuming public of Canada.

Ogilvie Flour Mills was rapidly becoming the dominant milling organization in the milling industry. "Incidentally, Morris Wilson, the president of the Royal Bank, is a director of this corporation and he, as you probably know, among others is one of the men behind Gladstone Murray in the vicious campaign which had been launched against the C.C.F.," Mr. Coldwell said.

FARM IMPLEMENTS

International Harvester Co. was dominant in the farm implements field, and "no wonder that we in Western Canada are endeavoring to organize a farm implement cooperative."

"We demand that government-owned plants suitable for the manufacture of farm machinery shall be made available to a farm implements co-operative and suitable credits provided through our national banking system," said Mr. Coldwell.

The C.C.F. program to ensure a prosperous agriculture industry would include proper credit facilities; parity prices for farm products; building and encouragement of co-operatives; and public or co-operative ownership and operation of all "monopolistic packing and processing industries."

National marketing boards with proper production and consumer representation to market agricultural produce were needed.

Action Demanded On Wage Request

WINNIPEG, Feb. 5.—(CP)—The National War Labor Board yesterday was asked for an "immediate decision" on demands of the Brotherhood of Maintenance of Way Employees for "substantial and retroactive increases in pay."

W. Aspinall of Winnipeg, vice-president of the railmen's organization, in a letter to the board, said a serious situation may develop if increases are not soon awarded.

He said the workers had urged a suspension of work, but that such action had been discouraged by the Brotherhood representatives.

The Brotherhood of Maintenance of Way Employees, affiliated with the American Federation of Labor and the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada, represents some 25,000 workers.

Basic wages for maintenance of way workers range from 28 cents per hour for first year sectionmen to 77 cents per hour for mechanics. They have demanded substantial increases and vacations with pay.

Called Off

MONTREAL, Feb. 5.—(CP)—Officials of Montreal Canadiens of the National Hockey League announced last night that an exhibition game against Quebec Aces, scheduled for next Sunday in Quebec, was "definitely off." Tommy Gorman, manager of the Canadian Arena Company, said that arrangements for the exhibition game had broken down over the question of referees.

Argentina Ends Relations With Axis Satellites

BUENOS AIRES, Feb. 5.—

(AP)—A government spokesman, announcing the severance of diplomatic relations with four Axis satellites, said last night that an investigation had revealed that Nazi espionage activities in Argentina had been carried out by the German embassy and by a personal representative of Hitler.

Japanese spying also was directed by the Japanese embassy, he said.

President Pedro Ramirez broke off relations with Germany and Japan Jan. 26 because, he said, Argentina's sovereignty had been jeopardized by Axis espionage in the country, and the government followed up yesterday by cutting diplomatic ties with Vichy France, Bulgaria, Rumania and Hungary. Communications with Germany and Japan also have been cut. The Danish legation here announced it had severed all connections with the present Danish government because it was under Nazi domination and King Christian X was a virtual prisoner.

Col. Enrique Gonzalez, secretary to Ramirez, said evidence of Japanese espionage activity would be revealed next week and that of Germany in the near future.

republics to break all relations with the Axis, a recommendation carried out by every other American government, and now, two years later, by Argentina.

POPULAR OPINION

By the steps now taken the Argentine government has recognized the force of popular opinion throughout the Americas, and shapes its policy so that it conforms with the policy of the Western Hemisphere. It is a salutary sign.

It likewise demonstrates how inherently right the decisions taken at the Rio de Janeiro conference actually were. If those influences then insisting that Argentina be read out of the American family of nations had had their way, not only would the Argentine rupture with the Axis never have been brought about, but hemispheric unity would not have been restored. The Americas would then have entered the post-war period a divided and not a united system.

There is no government of the New World which has contributed more to the growth of a healthy and strong inter-American system and to the defence of the integrity of the Americas, and of their democratic institutions, than has the present government of Mexico. President Avila Camacho and his brilliant Foreign Minister, Dr. Ezequiel Padilla, have won the confidence of the peoples of the other republics. Dr. Padilla, in commenting upon the Argentine severance of relations with the Axis, stated that it would "insure that continental unity which has been the goal of the Americas since the Rio de Janeiro conference of 1942."

That, it seems to me, is the paramount issue. For without such unity the inter-American system could not undertake the great responsibilities which lie before it in the years to come after the common victory is won. Nor could it even long survive.

Bloc Populaire Votes Confidence In Party Chief

equality to be demonstrated by the recognition in all provinces of the right of French Canadians to a Catholic and French education, and practical "and not only theoretical recognition" of the French language in Canada.

SHARE IN SERVICE

The resolution also urged an "adequate" representation of the French-Canadian element in the Dominion civil service and letting of more public contracts to French-Canadian firms.

Other resolutions called for the "integral" respect of provincial autonomy by the federal government, adhesion of Canada to the Pan-American union, a policy for facilitating to new Canadians conservation of their culture and traditions, avoidance of an immigration policy that would favor exclusively British interests.

In his speech to the delegates handed the press at the end of last night's meeting, Mr. Raymond thanked the convention for their unanimous vote of confidence in his leadership of party. He said that he had accepted the leadership of the movement only because he felt it was his duty as a citizen. "The day you think somebody else is more apt than myself to render service you remain perfectly free to designate another leader. Do not fear disappointing me. I'll be happy to retire."

DECISION REQUIRED

He had been asked at the time of the foundation of the party whether the block would be active in the federal or provincial field. The question at the time was not one that was pressing but now with a general election being so near in Quebec a decision was required.

"On account of the task we have undertaken in Ottawa and owing to the small number of house members opposing the federal policy since 1939 I think for my part that I would not be able to leave the federal arena. That is why I consent to delegate my powers as I am asked to do so that the fight will go on in the provincial field," he said.

Mr. Raymond said appointment of a Quebec provincial leader was a very grave responsibility. And when the text of the resolution asking him to appoint a provincial leader had been handed him he had pondered over it. In appointing Mr. Laurendeau he asked every bloc partisan to support their new provincial leader wholeheartedly.

Mr. Laurendeau was the reason for the great success of the convention and for a year he had seconded his (Mr. Raymond's) efforts ceaselessly.

Ask Protest Meet Of Labor Congress

CALGARY, Feb. 5.—(CP)—A request for a special convention of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada to voice Labor's opposition to wartime wages control order 1943 was passed by approximately 150 Calgary trades unionists at a meeting here last night.

Heads of city political organizations addressed the meeting sponsored by the Calgary Trades Council as a protest against the order issued by the federal government last December.

Trades and labor councils across Canada will be asked to support the Calgary request for a special Trades Congress convention to be attended by representatives of all affiliated councils in order to impress upon the government the strength of the Labor movement opposition to the order.

English Terrier Mother of Nine Aboard Airplane

MIAMI, Fla., Feb. 5.—(AP)—An Air Transport Command plane arrived in Miami Thursday with eight passengers that were not aboard when the ship took off for an Atlantic crossing.

At 10,000 feet just south of the equator, Tilly, an English terrier, gave birth to nine puppies.

The ship's radio announced the event. When a South American port was reached, an army nurse helped Tilly's owner, Maj. John H. Grindlay of the Army Medical Corps, care for the puppies. The nurse kept one of the puppies. The remaining eight continued the flight to Miami.

The terrier has accompanied Grindlay during campaigns in Burma and India.

Cost-of-Living Index Again Shows Decline

OTTAWA, Feb. 5.—(CP)—The Dominion Bureau of Statistics reported yesterday the official cost-of-living index declined from 119.3 at Dec. 1 to 119.0 at Jan. 3, making the total wartime increase 18.1 per cent.

The index was at 117.1 on the corresponding date last year. "Group indexes for foods and home-furnishings and services were lower than in the previous month, while those for fuel and lighting and miscellaneous items advanced," the bureau said.

FOOD INDEX FALLS

"The food index fell from 132.7 for December to 131.5 for January as sharp declines in egg prices outweighed scattered increases for butter, meats and fresh vegetables. The home-furnishings and services index dropped from 118.8 to 118.4 due to a decrease in the furniture section.

"Higher coal prices advanced the fuel and lighting index from 111.9 to 112.7, while increases in health costs raised the miscellaneous index from 108.6 to 108.9. Other groups remained unchanged, rents at 111.9 and clothing at 121.1."

In a separate statement the bureau said a minor decline was recorded in the average level of Canadian farm product prices in January, the index declining 0.3 points to 104.0 between Dec. 31 and Jan. 28. The index for animal products dropped 1.7 points to 123.7 on continued seasonal declines in eggs coupled with slightly easier quotations for livestock.

FIELD PRODUCTS FIRMER

Field products were firmer, stiffening 0.5 points to 92.2 largely due to advances in potato prices in line with additions to storage charges. Hay and onions also were slightly stronger. Fractional strength in the manufacturing materials section was reflected in a gain of 0.1 to 90.6 in the index for 30 industrial materials.

Under the government's recent wage control order, the cost-of-living bonus paid to Canadian workers, based on the cost-of-living index, merges with basic wage rates effective in the first payroll period on or after Feb. 15.

When the merging was announced, the government said it would not consider a revision of the new policy until there was a three-per-cent change in the index.

Allies Battling Grimly Against 'Growing Storm'

By DANIEL DE LUCE

AT THE 5TH ARMY BEACHHEAD SOUTH OF ROME, Feb. 5.—(AP)—Allied troops are fighting stubbornly against fierce continuing attacks by German infantry and armor against their beachhead within 20 miles of Rome.

Side by side, British and United States veterans in staunchly defended foxholes have been holding off the growing storm of the German counter-offensive.

Denied air support by bad weather, front-line units called for and received heavy assistance from Allied guns. Thousands of shells have been fired by both sides since the Germans began exerting pressure. Hundreds of Italian farm families caught by the explosion of war in their neighborhood, huddle miserably in stables along with their gray Brahms cattle.

The battlefield is a gently rolling countryside speckled with trim modern villages erected by Mussolini's rural housing program. Only a few patches of scrub oak and an occasional drainage ditch or road embankment provide cover from enemy observation.

German prisoners march back in a seemingly endless parade under guard of Allied soldiers armed with tommy-guns and sub-machine guns.

21 Bombers Lost As Frankfurt Hit

By W. W. HERCHER

LONDON, Feb. 5.—(AP)—Making their sixth major attack in seven days, a powerful force of United States heavy bombers attacked the important industrial and communications centre of Frankfurt and other targets in western Germany yesterday in operations from which 21 bombers and one fighter failed to return.

The bombers were escorted by United States long-range fighters and supported by R.A.F., Dominion and Allied Spitfires and Typhoons, an army headquarters communique announced last night.

While only weak German fighter defences were encountered, returning crews reported that the Nazis had sent up a heavy curtain of anti-aircraft fire over the area. Gunners on the bombers shot down four German planes while the escorting fighters accounted for eight more for a total enemy loss of 12 planes, the bulletin said.

Second Fusiliers Postpone Parade

The parade of the 2nd (Reserve) Battalion Edmonton Fusiliers scheduled to take place at 10 a.m. Sunday from headquarters at Victoria Armory to Robertson United church, has been postponed indefinitely, and will be held when further arrangements are made.

In postponing the parade, Capt. A. R. Gillies, adjutant of the unit, said the action was due to the cold weather, which would make use of the band instruments impossible and result in unnecessary inconvenience to all ranks.

F. Sutherland, 50 years old, of 8803 146 street, was admitted to the General hospital suffering from injuries received about 8:25 p.m. Friday, when he was knocked from his bicycle at Jasper avenue and 111 street, by a truck operated by Kenneth Laffleur, 10558 102 street, according to city police.

Laffleur told police that he had started up from the front of a shop west of 110 street, when he saw the cyclist in front of him. Laffleur took the injured man to hospital in his truck.

The Inquiring Reporter

THE QUESTION
What is your opinion of Premier Ernest Manning's statement that the proposed Dominion-provincial conference at Ottawa on finances and post-war social legislation should not be restricted as to subjects to be discussed?

THE ANSWERS

THOMAS THORLAKSON, clerk: I think that Premier Manning's position is well taken. The whole problem of post-war activity is so much in the melting pot at present that restriction of discussion is inadvisable.

WILLIAM BILLINGS, truck driver: There is no doubt that restriction of discussion would curtail the benefits of the conference. I hope that any member of the conference will be able to bring up any subject he desires.

JAMES WILLIAMSON, salesman: I haven't had much opportunity of considering the meeting so far, but on general principles I would say that discussion should not be restricted and that all phases of post-war problems should be discussed.

Speaker Urges Co-Operation in House Problem

At a meeting of the Landlords' Protective Association on Friday, A. L. Marks, Edmonton barrister, explained that co-operation of landlords and tenants is the only real solution to the acute housing situation here. He said that government rental control cannot cope as efficiently with the situation.

Present regulations will destroy any government in the Dominion, if allowed to continue as they are, the speaker said.

"While our soldiers are fighting to preserve our homes, rental control 'tear gas' is destroying them," he said. He suggested recommendations to the landlords, and urged that the association draw up resolutions with reference to these recommendations.

First, it was resolved to ask the government to keep its hands off homes, "except to assist in co-ordinating the efforts of voluntary committees who would take the responsibility of solving the rental problem in a particular district."

With regard to all other housing but homes, it was urged that every lease be subject to having the rentals fixed by arbitrators of the landlord and tenant if they cannot come to an agreement.

SENT RESOLUTION

At the last meeting of the organization, a resolution was forwarded to the Hon. James A. MacKinnon, minister of trade and commerce. The resolution summed up the situation and urged greater understanding between landlords and tenants. Chairman of the group, Mrs. E. Rogers, read a letter in reply to the resolution, from Mr. MacKinnon. It read, "I quite agree that some of the present regulations may be adversely affecting the rental situation, and I shall be glad to have a word with my colleague, under whose department the matter comes."

The association will meet the first Friday of each month during 1944.

Major And Minor Notes

By John Oliver

ONLY one more concert remains in the current season's Celebrity Series sponsored by the Women's Musical Club. When Jan Pierce, tenor of the Metropolitan Opera Association concludes the series next month, the tenth season of such concerts will have passed into history. With the excellence of Artur Rubinstein's performance last night still fresh in the memory, where it will remain for a long time, there is a feeling of combined nostalgia and regret that the group must come to an end after only one more event. The visits of outstanding artists not only entertain and instruct, but they maintain morale and aid in keeping good heart and cheerful outlook in days of successive crises. While the Celebrity Series served a useful and beneficial purpose during peacetime, it is even more valuable in wartime, when the need of music and its stimulating features are more essential to public well-being.

JOHN OLIVER

Mr. Pierce had been known long and favorably to concert audiences before he entered the charmed and exclusive Metropolitan Opera Association circles. He had been heard frequently at the Radio City Music Hall in New York, on radio programs, and on phonograph records. And, to give him added prestige, he had appeared as soloist at Carnegie Hall, with the NBC Symphony Orchestra, under Arturo Toscanini's baton. Then, two years ago he became a member of the Metropolitan, since which time there has been no tenor in more constant demand.

Last season, he was the sensation among tenors at the "Met" and his concert appearances were numerous. This season, in appearing here and in Winnipeg, he is paying his first visit to Western Canada. His voice has an unusual "golden" quality, and is a singer who is at home alike in opera and concert.

Speaking of Mr. Rubinstein recalls the fact that there is one exceptionally well-pleased musician in this city. Maybe there are others who are in this category, but my thoughts in this respect are turned to W. G. Strachan, manager of Heintzman and Company's store. Although Mr. Rubinstein makes a habit of playing on the make of piano to which he is accustomed, as do prominent artists, there was none of that particular make available here.

When Fred M. Gee, Winnipeg

R.A.F. Choir Will Sing Here Feb. 13

The Edmonton Lions' Club will sponsor a concert by the "Male Voice Choir" from No. 36 S.F.T.S., R.A.F. station at Penhold, at the Rialto theatre, Sunday, Feb. 13. The choir consists of 27 airmen under the leadership of LAC. Stanley A. Philp. Accompanist is LAC. Goronwy Watkin and the Comper is LAC. Kenneth Ridley. A well balanced program will be presented, featuring not only the choir but several solo numbers, trios, and songs by the "Welsh concert impresario, who co-operates with the Women's Musical Club in bringing the Celebrity Series here, was on his way to New York to book artists for next season, he went by way of Minneapolis, and stopped off to hear Mr. Rubinstein play with Dimitri Mitropoulos and the Minneapolis Symphony Orchestra. While there, he also conferred with Mr. Rubinstein regarding the instrument on which he would play here. When informed that a Heintzman concert grand was available, Mr. Rubinstein expressed his delight, and said he would be greatly pleased to play on it.

Mr. Gee conveyed this information to Mr. Strachan in a letter which has been placed among the more valuable items in the Strachan musical archives, and today the recipient is pleased not only with having the letter, but in the knowledge that the instrument, at last night's concert "came through" as he knew, and as Mr. Rubinstein expected it would.

Mrs. James B. Carmichael has commenced rehearsals for Rudolf Friml's musical play "Katinka," which the Edmonton Civic Opera Society will produce at the Strand theatre March 28, 29 and 30. Intensive work will be the order of the day from now until production time. Although the chorus has been on the job alone up until now, the orchestra is expected to swing into action next week, and then, when the full state of principals has been chosen, the entire ensemble will work in sections, and in combination, in the expectation of reaching the high level of previous productions.

While the valiant Red Army sweeps irresistibly forward, rolling up the once vaunted and highly-touted Nazi storm-troopers, Russian composers still are able to keep the banner of music flying. Much has been written of Dimitri Shostakovich and his activities in and around Leningrad, where he has done much composing in between periods of duty as an air raid crewman. Another Russian composer who has been kept busily engaged is Vladimir Miaslovsky, whose 24th Symphony, his latest work, was performed recently at Moscow by the State Symphony Orchestra under the direction of the conductor, Radinsky. This is the third symphony to be written by Miaslovsky since the war began.

The old theatrical and show business saying that "the show must go on" in spite of everything, holds good to an equal extent in music. An audience of many thousands on a recent Sunday at Manchester, England, heard a particularly fine performance of Handel's oratorio

Artur Rubinstein Wins Triumph Before Enthusiastic Audience

Artur Rubinstein held an overflow audience in the spell of his phenomenal pianistic art Friday night at McDougall auditorium, when he appeared in the Women's Musical Club Celebrity Series of concerts.

After two hours of intensive playing, punctuated by rising tides of applause, confirming the early unconditional capitulation of the audience, Mr. Rubinstein after giving three encores to his final group, almost in self-defence sat down once more at the keyboard and brought the recital to a close with God Save the King.

Seldom has there been a demonstration here of such sustained, magnificent playing as that by Mr. Rubinstein. And that the audience was quick to appreciate that magnificence was evident from the start.

"The Messiah" by the Halle Orchestra and Chorus, led by Malcolm Sargent.

A newspaper, reporting the event, said the audience agreed that it was a personal triumph for the conductor. What the audience did not know was that just before the performance, Dr. Sargent had been told that his 18-year-old daughter, Pamela, was dying. When the concert was over, he heard she was dead, a victim of the infantile paralysis from which she had suffered since 1937.

Misael Piastro, former concertmaster of the New York Philharmonic Symphony Orchestra, has returned to his former activity as a concert soloist, and on Jan. 15 gave an exceptionally successful recital at Carnegie Hall, where he had led the string section of the Philharmonic for 12 years, and appeared with the orchestra on many occasions as soloist. The event was a great personal and artistic triumph. One writer declared that if he had not resigned his post with the Philharmonic, "we might never have known what a fine violinist he is."

About 40 members of the Edmonton branch of the Alberta Music Teachers' Association attended the luncheon given at the Macdonald hotel Tuesday for Norman Wilks, principal of the Toronto Conservatory of Music, Mr. Wilks, who won the Military Cross for gallantry in action during the Great War of 1914-1918, has appeared here as piano soloist on several occasions. He spoke to the teachers on interpretation. He also declared that musicians should have representation in various community service

Mr. Rubinstein, obviously pleased, appeared on the platform smilingly acknowledging the welcome. Few conquering heroes have been given more whole-hearted, spontaneous outbursts of applause, which, in addition to hand-clapping, included cheering and stamping of feet. Mr. Rubinstein was at his peak. His playing was attended throughout by that mastery of technique and interpretation which won his own secure place among the mighty of the piano early in his public career.

His unfoldment of the various works was characterized by spontaneity, imaginative approach and unerring ability to bring forth the best from each, and thereby to catch and hold the audience in undivided attention. His work was outstanding, particularly in prodigious technical capacity, which made him oblivious to the obstacles that confront less gifted pianists, and in his command and control of brilliant tone colors and effects.

In addition, he was an impressive, compelling performer in those places calling for dynamic variation, executing those demanding brilliance and power with the same facility as those for which the ultimate in delicacy and refinement was essential.

POETIC TREATMENT

His playing of Beethoven's Sonata in F Minor, opus 57, the "Appassionata" was made hauntingly beautiful with his poetic treatment. His mood was admirably suited to the music and the performance was invested with the subtle nuances, powerful climaxes and other features called for by the changing picture as the sonata swept on its triumphant way.

The Chopin group produced further testimony of Mr. Rubinstein's organizations, including town planning commissions which would be interested in building schools, conservatories and concert halls in the post-war period.

At that concert, he gave the first New York performance of the Violin Concerto in D Minor, by Sir Hamilton Harty. This work was dedicated in 1908 by the composer "To Joska Szgeli in Friendship." Mr. Szgeli played the concerto several times in England, in Cologne under Steinbach, and with the Budapest Philharmonic. New York critics, however, while they lauded Mr. Piastro's marvellous ability, were lukewarm on the merits of the concerto.

tremendous capacity for variety in interpretation, and in evoking bright, vivid colors. The Ballade in A Flat was played unforgettably and was built up to a climax of mountainous proportions. Two Etudes and a Nocturne followed and this group was capped by a thoroughly convincing and scintillating interpretation of the Polish opus 53.

LIKES DEBUSSY

Debussy was represented by a Prelude and Ondine, both of which showed that Mr. Rubinstein has a liking for, and is a thoroughly artistic performer of the Frenchman's music.

Dimitri Shostakovich's Polka aroused enthusiasm, while Scriabin's Nocturne for the left hand was a triumph of subtle nuances and subdued floating tone.

Liszt's Mephisto Waltz was a notable feat of both speed and strength, and the essential spirit of the work, with its stylistic needs was projected by Mr. Rubinstein with uncommon understanding and precision.

Encores included a Chopin Waltz, Liszt's Liebestraume, a dance from Stravinsky's ballet Petroushka and the Fire Dance by Manuel de Falla. —J.O.

Air Cadets Start Rifle Competition

By JACK DAVY

Ever since November a select group of air cadets has been attending extra parades at the I.T.S. rifle range Fridays and Sundays. The purpose of these parades was to provide the cadets with plenty of practice in marksmanship. The object in view was the winning of the Dominion marksmanship award for cadet teams across Canada.

The culmination of this assiduous practice came Sunday, when the Edmonton squadron rifle team shot the first series of targets in the competition. The targets have been sent to the Dominion Rifle Association in Ottawa to be marked. There are two more series of targets to be shot, one in February and one in March. All teams competing will send their targets to Ottawa, where the average scores of each team for the three series of targets will be compiled and awards made accordingly.

Complete results for last year's competition have arrived. Although handicapped by poor sights, the team last year obtained an average of 86 per cent, placing fifth among air cadet teams, but quite low among all the competitors. This year preliminary estimates, based on the unofficial scores obtained on the first shoot indicate that the average will be approximately 93 per cent, and hopes are running high.

A basketball team, consisting of Grade 10 students, has been formed. Practices are being held regularly at noon, Mondays and Wednesdays.

Possibilities of a sleigh ride for Feb. 25 are rather slight, but to offset that disappointment, a "fish pond" will be held Feb. 14. It promises to be a most enjoyable event. The make-up class, an addition to the drama club, has just been started, with Margaret McCallum in charge.

VARSITY

By Jeanne Gould

The Varsity High "Torch" made its first appearance of the new year this week and proved to be very successful. The green and gold issue was marked by some original contributions from the students, and artistic decorations and cartoons.

For the last month, every noon hour, the "old men" of the school have been gathering in the study hall to play chess. Because so many were interested in the game a chess club has been formed with Lorne Calhoun as president, and Harold Morrison as recorder. A tournament will be organized in the near future.

Last Friday the Varsity High boys' basketball team played No. 3 "M" Depot at the Arena. The boys fought hard, but the school was defeated 35-30. The boys will try again in another game soon.

Kinette Club Raises $4,636

A general meeting of the Kinette Club of Edmonton was held recently at the home of Mrs. Leroy Goldsworthy.

A report on activities for the past year was given, showing that the sum of $4,636 was raised for the "milk for Britain" fund. This money was raised through collections from milk battles, checking concessions at the Mart Kenney dances, rummage sale, bingo, dog show, refreshment stands at the auction sale, and the open air carnival. In addition to these activities the girls packed toys for families of needy T.B. patients at Christmas time, collected cards and magazines for the Merchant Navy and supervised the placing and emptying of the milk bottles displayed in cafes and stores throughout the city.

Plans for a rummage sale to be held on Feb. 28, convoked by Mrs. J. Jaeger, were discussed.

Research IN THE Natural Gas Industry

Despite severe shortages of materials and manpower, the Gas Industry rates 1943 as a year of marked achievement. While essential civilian services in the home and elsewhere were maintained, facilities were expanded to increase the output of Gas fuel needed by industry to meet every requirement of the war emergency, without curtailment of supply.

Research Laboratories have redoubled their activities. "More of Everything" summarizes the work of the Industry's testing and research laboratories, and here too the year was by far the busiest in their history—with emphasis placed upon its work in the war field. Until the war is won the greater part of the operations of the laboratories will undoubtedly continue to be devoted to direct war work.

In Addition the laboratories are engaged in an extensive program of domestic gas research, this having been accelerated 400% in 1943. This is intended to aid in the development and improvement of equipment to be manufactured in the post war period in order that homes may be supplied with appliances incorporating the latest features of design, and the most effective means of fuel utilization.

Such Features as complete automatic ignition of all burners, faster radiant broiling, cooler exterior oven surfaces, better visibility in ovens, more efficient burners, are now well within reach, and similar improvements are projected for other gas equipment.

MY DAY

WASHINGTON.—On Saturday I had a most interesting talk with Mrs. Hugo Cedergren. Mr. and Mrs. Cedergren are over here for the Y.M.C.A. and Z.W.C.A., visiting prisoners' camps and internment camps. She has been allowed to visit camps in Germany, to go to Geneva, and she has probably seen more of enemy territory than most neutrals. She told me that with the aid of the Red Cross packages from this country, Canada and Great Britain, the women and children in enemy camps were managing to get along fairly well as far as food and clothing go. Barracks life, however, is harder on women than on men, but the effect on the children has not been seriously harmful from the nutritional standpoint.

The president of the Navy Wives, an organization composed of the wives of the enlisted men of the Navy, Marine Corps and Coast Guard, came to lunch with me to tell me of the organization. The group is growing, and I am sure it will accomplish great things as time goes on.

In the afternoon, I visited the "American Mariner," a liberty ship which has been here to aid in the fourth war loan drive. This is a training ship and some 200 men are on board. We went over it and saw various shops and classrooms on board. The ship is a fine example of the tools of his trade. The galley, of course, is far larger than on an ordinary ship because so many meals have to be served. While the ship is here, the men are nobly doing their share for the bond drive. They act as hosts to more than 6,000 visitors a day, help children up and down ladders and reunite people who get detached from their particular parties.

The quota set for the ship has been exceeded. I think it is safe to say that many people who visited it will have a better understanding of the amount of cargo that these ships can carry and the job which is done by the Merchant Marine. Four men were given their combat ribbons while we looked on.

Saturday I did the rounds of the birthday balls, which were more numerous this year than ever before. I ended up at the Hotel Statler, and met many of the movie stars there. We listened to the President's broadcast. Then I cut the birthday cake and gave a piece to every star present. The only other place where I cut a birthday cake was at the Stage Door Canteen, which was so full of service men that I think they crowded out most of their hostesses. I only saw a few girls on the outskirts!

On Sunday we had lunch at the White House for all the movie stars and, as usual, showed them around. I am always impressed by the historical sense which actors and actresses seem to have so much more strongly than people who do not project themselves into other people's lives as an everyday occurrence. My last activity in connection with the campaign for infantile paralysis was to attend the United Nations benefit on Sunday evening, at which 40 nations were represented.

McCoy Health Service

Following a stroke which has left one side of the body paralyzed, the thing the patient is most interested in is how fast the paralysis is going to disappear.

It is often difficult to give a definite answer in these circumstances. Usually, after a few days or weeks, the leg on the affected side becomes movable, the patient finding the power of movement is returning, although the leg may not be as strong as it used to be. The arm may recover much more slowly and remain partially paralyzed. As a general rule, the patient finds that the power of walking will come back, but that the arm will stay weaker than the leg.

The stricken person should be kept warm and no food of any kind should be given for some time. If no food is given to the patient he will stand a better chance of recovery. This fast should be continued for at least five days; and if the blood pressure stays high, it may be kept up even longer. I suggest that the patient be given distilled water to drink.

Every morsel of food taken at this time will interfere with recovery. The patient must be particularly careful to avoid dietetic indiscretions. If the patient has been accustomed to eating everything and anything, this may be a hard rule to enforce, but a great deal of good will come from its observance.

I believe that a fast of a week or two at the beginning will do more good than any other measure which may be tried. A fast on grapefruit juice or tomato juice seems to be especially beneficial in reducing the blood pressure when this is too high and either of these may be used along with the distilled water at the start.

After the attack the patient should be kept as quiet as possible. Rest in bed is advisable. When the paralytic effect of the stroke clears up quickly, the patient may see no reason why he should rest but I assure you that rest is the best thing for him. Excitement should be avoided and all problems which might produce anxiety and worry should not be discussed before him.

The most important preventive measure in those known to have high blood pressure and arterial hardening, is moderation in all things. Too much exercise, too much excitement, too much to eat, too much worry, any of these may be the event which set off a stroke. Once a stroke has occurred the patient should be doubly careful but if he is willing to take care of himself there is a good chance of avoiding another.

All questions regarding health and diet will be answered. Large stamped, self addressed envelope must be enclosed. Write on one side of paper only. Letters must not exceed 150 words. Address McCoy Health Service, The McCoy Building, 1151 West 6th Street, Los Angeles, Calif.

Raps "Efficiency" Selective Service

OTTAWA, Feb. 5.—(CP)—Tom Reid (L., New Westminster) was criticizing administration of Selective Service regulations in British Columbia. To back up his argument he told this story: "Men were required for the Oakalla prison (in Burnaby municipality, near Vancouver) and you know that in order to look after prisoners you must be able-bodied. 'Selective Service sent up, not at the same time but on following days, two men—each of whom had only one arm.'"

Two B.C. Airmen Awarded D.F.C.

OTTAWA, Feb. 5.—(CP)—Air Force headquarters last night announced award of Distinguished Flying Crosses to two British Columbia pilots serving in the same R.C.A.F. bomber squadron overseas for the part they played in raids on Berlin last month. The pilots are FO. J. A. McIntosh, of Revelstoke, B.C., and PO. T. B. Spink of Vancouver.

Fighters As Bomber Escort

—By Maj. A. P. de Seversky—

American fighter planes, which are now being used extensively to escort bombers on strategic missions, have not been designed for that purpose. Their use in shielding bombers therefore becomes a most complex procedure, the success of which once more attests the ingenuity, resourcefulness and skill of our personnel in theatres of action.

This is not the first time, of course, that mistaken military ideas of swivel-chair strategists have been corrected, in part at least, by the quick thinking and inventive talents of our combat personnel. The installation of the "stinger" or tail gun in the Flying Fortress, without which that bomber was helpless against attack from the rear, conversion of fighters into fighter-bombers by adding bomb racks in the field of operations; the extension of the range of our fighters by extra droppable gas tanks—these are only a few other examples of combat improvisation to make up for erroneous original military concepts.

The fact that the fighters used for escort duty with bombers were never intended for such jobs forces our men to devise elaborate makeshift tactics. How elaborate was admitted recently by a War Department press release describing the procedure.

COMPLEX SYSTEM

"Long range fighter flying employs a complex system featuring precision timing. . . . To escort long range bombers to and from such targets," the official release declared, "often requires up to six or eight separate fighter missions. The United States Army Eighth Air Force uses the British Spitfire for short range escort and the P-47 Thunderbolt, P-38 Lightning, and the P-51 Mustang for deeper penetration. . . . An attack on a target 500 miles from English fighter bases would require at least four separate fighter escorts."

From the above it is clear that highly ingenious arrangements are needed, and success is dependent on extreme precision in timing.

NEED EVIDENT

All of this, of course, is the direct result of past failure to recognize the need for developing proper types of convoy fighters. That need was sufficiently evident even in the previous World War. I draw on my own experience only because I know it best. Back in 1917, when I headed the Fighter Command in the Baltic Sea for Russia, my fighter group was called upon to protect bombers in their expeditions against German coastal fortifications. The absurdity of our situation was that our pursuits were able to cover the bombers over friendly territory, but ran out of range precisely where they were most needed, over enemy territory. They had to return to their bases, refuel and rise gain, only to meet the remnants of the bombing force on their way home. That left no doubt of the urgent necessity to build special convoy combat planes.

Such experience was reinforced by military aviation developments in China and in the Spanish Civil War. It became apparent that escorts would have to be especially designed for that particular job. Not only would they need range equal to that of bombers, but their firepower must be designed and disposed for the most effective protection of the escorted bomber. In effect, the convoying fighter is just additional firepower, detached from the bomber and highly manoeuvrable; it acts as if the number of turrets on the bomber had been increased and the firing range of its guns extended.

The present single-seater fighter is extremely ill-suited for convoy service. Because its guns are fixed and fire only forward, it often must turn away from the bomber in order to fight it out with attacking planes. In actual combat it thus may find itself travelling in the opposite direction from the bomber. A fighter moving at seven miles a minute and a bomber heading in the opposite direction at four miles a minute find themselves eleven miles apart in one minute of combat! Enjoying an excess speed of only three miles a minute, it will take the fighter fully four minutes to get back into its protective position even after only one minute of air duelling. No more telling example of the inadequacy of the present fighter for convoy duty could be cited.

SPEED UP

Development of a true convoy fighter should therefore be speeded up. Those who urged this five and six years ago were not only overruled but ridiculed. That serious error of judgment has come home to roost. But the embarrassment of conceding the error should not be made an excuse for further delay. When we have polished off the German targets, there will still be Japanese strongholds to be reduced by strategic bombing, and every day saved in obtaining proper fighter-convoy means American lives and planes saved.

Recent experience over Germany coincides with the earlier contentions that the convoy fighter should be larger and more elaborate than a single-seater type of plane. Of course, it can be single or multiple-engine. But most important, its firepower must be effective, not only forward, but in every direction. This means that it should have power-driven or retractable gun turrets, which in turn will call for a

Forces Can Cut Timber For Fuel

The Canadian armed services have been given permission to cut timber in Alberta for fuel purposes. It was learned in Edmonton Saturday.

Representations have been made to the provincial lands and mines department by the Dominion department of national defence, asking for such permission, and it was granted by order-in-council.

"Great difficulty was experienced in the past winter in obtaining coal for the requirements of the army, owing to the coal shortage, and it is anticipated that even greater difficulty may be encountered this winter," it was stated.

The permits to cut timber on provincial lands are to be issued free of duties or fees, and are renewable yearly. They will not be given unless applied for by an officer in charge of a military unit in the province.

Cruiser Hit Hard By Scharnhorst

A BRITISH NORTHERN NAVAL BASE, Feb. 3.—(CP)—The Cruiser Norfolk was the first to sight the German battleship Scharnhorst, first to hit her and first British vessel to be hit, taking two 11-inch shells in the running battle off Norway Dec. 26 in which the Scharnhorst was sunk, it was disclosed yesterday.

The Norfolk was able to continue in the fight mainly through exceptional effort by her damage control personnel. Many of her crew were killed, but others brought fires under control and kept the cruiser in the battle after examination showed nothing wrong with the ship's machinery.

This was the first disclosure that the 950-ton Norfolk had been struck by 11-inch shells, biggest of the Scharnhorst's armament. The Admiralty communique after the battle said simply that the Norfolk and the destroyer Saumarez had suffered a few casualties and minor damage.

multiple crew. The plane, in other words, would depend less on its manoeuvrability and more on the manoeuvrability of its firepower.

As soon as military thinking recognizes this inevitable development, the creative aeronautical talent of our country can unquestionably give our air forces streamlined, hard-hitting firepower in the form of a long-range combat plane, in which the disposition of crew, armor and guns will represent the maximum aerodynamical and tactical efficiency. Our men are doing wonders with improvised and makeshift convoy equipment. They deserve the real thing.

THE MIRAGE OF MESSINA
A VISION THAT CAME TRUE!

FOR THE LAST 20 CENTURIES THERE HAS EXISTED A MIRAGE IN REGGIO, CALABRIA, THAT PORTRAYED FANTASTIC PALACES AND ENDLESS COLUMNS OF SOLDIERS MARCHING ACROSS THE STRAITS OF MESSINA.

THIS VISION CAME TO LIFE WHEN THE ALLIED ARMIES CROSSED FROM SICILY TO ITALY

SUPERMAN

JERRY SEGEL AND JOE SHUSTER

JUDY KING HAS ASKED SUPERMAN TO VISIT EACH OF HER FOUR BOY FRIENDS TO SEE WHETHER THE ARMY, NAVY, COAST GUARD OR MARINES IS MOST DESERVING OF HAVING HER ON ITS PARTICULAR WOMEN'S AUXILIARY. RIGHT NOW SUPERMAN IS VISITING DICK ADAMS ABOARD AN AMERICAN SUB...

THAT DEPTH CHARGE DAMAGED OUR DIVING PLANES! WE'RE RISING!

AND THAT JAP DESTROYER IS WAITING FOR US UPSTAIRS!

GET ME OUT THROUGH THE TORPEDO TUBE-- A JAP DESTROYER IS A JOE FOR SUPERMAN!

AS YOU WERE MATE! THE NAVY PAYS US TO DO THE NAVY'S WORK.

YOU SAID IT, DICK! THIS IS OUR JOB!

MEANWHILE, IN THE FORWARD TORPEDO ROOM...

MOMENTS LATER...

PLEASE, SIR--?

BUT, SIR... OUR DECK GUN WOULDN'T HAVE A CHANCE AGAINST THE GUNS ON THAT DESTROYER!

I CAN'T REFUSE YOU ADAMS...

GET YOUR CREW INTO THE CONNING TOWER-- WHEN WE BREAK SURFACE, GET OUT THERE AND FIGHT 'EM!

THE YANK SUB "POURS IT ON 'EM" AS FAST AS THE GUN CAN BE LOADED AND FIRED!

PARDON ME, GENTS-- BUT I THINK THE SKIPPER MAY BE WANTING ME IN THE TORPEDO ROOM ABOUT NOW!

DICK IS RIGHT! THE SUB LAUNCHES A "TIN FISH" WHICH FINDS THE VITALS OF THE ALREADY WOUNDED JAP WARSHIP.

A MAGNIFICENT SHOWING, COMMANDER! SHIPS LIKE YOURS ARE BADLY NEEDED IN COMBAT, SO...

SO I ACCEPT YOUR KIND OFFER TO SPEED US BACK TO OUR BASE FOR NECESSARY REPAIRS WITH A MINIMUM LOSS OF TIME!

THE MAN OF TOMORROW SWIMS AT AN INCREDIBLE RATE OF SPEED, PUSHING THE UNDERSEA CRAFT BEFORE HIM.

ALL IN ALL, SUPERMAN, DON'T YOU THINK JUDY COULD DO WORSE THAN JOIN THE WAVES?

ALL IN ALL, DICK, SHE COULD DO A LOT WORSE!
